Allied Craft Flies Over East Germany

Pressure Of Soviet Countered Western Operation To Assert Rights

BERLIN (AP)—Allied aircraft flew through the north corridor from Berlin today to counter renewed Soviet pressure on the vital air lanes, informed sources said.

To Assert Right

The Western operation was designed to assert Allied rights in face of the renewal of harassing tactics by the Red air force. Western commanders gave orders for the transports to fly deliberately below the level the Soviets want for their exclusive use for a three-hour period.

For the seventh time since it started harassing Western air links to Berlin on Feb. 7, the Soviet air force told the Berlin Air Safety Center Sunday night it was reserving air space up to 7,500 feet in the north corridor leading to Berlin from Hamburg.

Ordered to Stand By

Allied control officers rejected the Soviet flight plan and ordered military transports to stand by. The Soviet move came after a weekend pause in the Berlin air crisis.

Insist on Safety Rules

The Western powers charged the Russians were trying to change the rules by making "block bookings" for the Red air force. The Allies do not dispute (Continued on Page 6, Col. 6)

Governor Cites Needs for More Low Cost Homes

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller says the state will offer a plan to break up what he calls "income ghettos" in publicly aided housing.

Appearing on a television program Sunday night, the governor also said he will be willing to debate on television his administration's record with any candidate the Democrats nominate for governor.

On housing, Rockefeller said: "We need more low-cost housing, and my administration will... try and get away from this income ghetto business that we're developing in the housing field, where everybody in a certain income has to live in this house, and when their income goes up (Continued on Page 6, Col. 7)

Korea Bonus Pressure Is Stronger in Albany

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller and legislative leaders were under increasing pressure today to join rank-and-file lawmakers in support of a $100-million state bonus for veterans of military service during the Korean conflict.

Bruce Miller Is Deputy Clerk, Replaces Tongue

Lawrence D. Craft, county clerk, today announced the appointment of Bruce A. Miller to the position of deputy county clerk to fill the vacancy in that position caused by the resignation of Ward B. Tongue.

Son of Late Attorney Miller

A son of the late Walter J. Miller, who for many years was a prominent Kingston attorney, and Mrs. Miller of 131 West Chester Street, here, Mr. Miller resides at 14 James Street, Rosendale, with his wife, Margaret F. Miller.

Born in Kingston, Mr. Miller is 34 years of age and has been a lifelong resident of the county. He attended St. Joseph's Parochial School, Kingston High School and Bryant College, Providence, R. I., from which he received the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration. He also attended Albany Law School for two years. A veteran of World War 2, he served in the U. S. Marine Corps.

He is a member of Kingston Lodge, No. 530, BPO Elks and Kingston Post 150, American Legion. As a resident of Rosendale, he attends St. Peter's Catholic Church in Rosendale.

To Activate Phase 2 Of Fund for Hospital

The first two phases of the $900,000 Kingston Hospital Building Fund Campaign will be activated this week, according to an announcement made today by Richard M. Kalish, general chairman of the campaign.

Richard J. Whalen, general manager of the International Business Machine Corporation, Kingston branch, will serve as chairman of Phase One and John W. Egbert, manager of the New York Telephone Company will head up Phase Two.

Whalen's division will embrace the "hospital family" and he has enlisted Mr. Kalish for the chairmanship of the section to solicit past and present Board

Have Not Taken Stand

Neither the governor, Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney nor Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlini has taken a stand.

But it was unlikely they could reverse the trend of legislative support for payment of a bonus to the 500,000 residents who served in the armed forces during the 1950-53 period.

For the governor, a bonus financed by bond sales would mean a break in his cherished policy of pay-as-you-go financing.

The individual lawmakers seem to have fixed upon the bonus idea as a substitute for tax relief, which leaders ruled out because of budget demands.

Approval Needed

A bonus presumably would involve a bond issue. This would require approval of the 1962 and 1963 Legislatures, and the approval of voters in November of next year. Tax funds would not be needed for the retirement of bonds until the 1964-65 fiscal year.

While the bonus issue remained the major item on the state government scene for the present, there was activity on other fronts as the Legislature moved into its final half.

Rent Control—Gov. Rockefeller signed legislation shifting to New York City the administration of rent control laws within that city. The city's own laws, now being prepared, will take effect May 1.

Milk Dating—Legislative leaders scheduled for this week a vote on another issue of prime interest to New York City—restoration of milk—dating. Despite opposition from Upstate dairy interests, Rockefeller and the leaders want to restore to the city its power to require that the date of pasteurization (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

To Start New School Annex On Saturday

Ground breaking for a $450,000 building designed to supplement St. Joseph's School facilities is slated for Saturday.

The two-story and part basement, L-shaped structure is to be built on a lot at Wall and Pearl Streets and is due for completion in 1963. Announcement of the ground breaking was made at Masses in St. Joseph's Church Sunday.

Eight classrooms, a 33 x 72 foot combined play area and cafeteria, a 33 x 63-foot meeting room and a 50 x 83-foot auditorium and gym will be provided, plus smaller office space, teachers' and health rooms. Plans also call for an 80 x 87-foot outside play area.

The building is to face Wall Street with one side along Pearl Street, and the other wing of the L-shaped structure will be along the rear of the lot.

Albert E. Milliken, of 239 Wall Street, is the architect, and Henry H. Swart & Son, general contractor, of 58 Pearl Street, is the contractor.

Kennedy Asking For $2 Billion In Public Works

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today sent to Congress legislation to give him power to trigger up to $2 billion of public works projects in the early stage of any business slump.

In an accompanying letter Kennedy said the standby authority would be "an invaluable anti-recession tool."

It would permit a speedup of provide grant and loan funds for the states to activate their own high-priority improvements, Kennedy said, without the necessity of waiting for congressional action which "may be too late."

Has Military Honors
In 1941 he entered the U. S. army as a private and was honorably discharged with the rank of major in January 1946. He served overseas from October 1942 to October 1945 in the European Theatre and was awarded the Croix du Guerre, Bronze Star, World War 2 Medal, ETO Ribbons, 5 Battle Star Decorations (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Five Others on Board Are Up to Supervisors

Wilson Impressed With Selection of College Directors

Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller today announced the names of four trustees who, together with five to be named by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors, will administer the affairs of the Ulster County Community College.

Those named by Governor Rockefeller are:

Louis Berger, Ellenville attorney, to serve until July 1, 1969.

Bernard A. Feeney, Kingston, boat building and marine transportation, to serve until July 1, 1967.

Mrs. Lloyd R. LeFever, Kingston, former school teacher.

Harry Rigby Jr., Kingston, vice president of Kingston Coal Company.

Wilson Pleased

Following announcement by the governor's office of the appointment of the four trustees, Ulster County Republican Committee Chairman and New York State Assemblyman from Ulster County Kenneth L. Wilson stated that he was "pleased with the names selected by Governor Rockefeller" and knows they will give outstanding service.

Assemblyman Wilson said he was "confident that the selection of the five trustees to be made by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors will be equally outstanding."

The voters of Ulster County at the November general election approved establishment of a Community College by a very large majority in a county-wide referendum.

Fordham Law Graduate

Mr. Berger resides at 27 Elm Street, Ellenville, is married and has five children. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Berger, and is a lifelong resident of Ulster County. Born at Mombaccus, Town of Rochester, March 27, 1915, he moved to Ellenville at the age of four and has since resided there.

He attended Ellenville public schools, graduated from Ellenville High School in 1932, attended Fordham University Pre-law and was graduated from Fordham Law School in 1939. He was admitted to the New York Bar in 1940 and has practiced law in Ellenville since 1946. He is a member of the New York State, Ulster County and Ellenville Bar Associations.

State News Guild Elects Mrs. Narel To Dual Position
At the annual meeting of the Empire State District Council of the American Newspaper Guild held Saturday and Sunday, in Jersey City, N. J., Mrs. Dorothy A. Narel, Freeman Society Editor, was elected secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Narel is now serving her third term as president of the Kingston Newspaper Guild.

Charles J. Tiano, past president of the Kingston Unit and Freeman Sports Editor, completed his fourth term as Council president, the longest ever served by any Council delegate. He had previously served several terms as vice president. The Council accorded him a standing ovation and presented him with an engraved gavel.

Other Officers
The new president is James Gallagher of the Albany-Times Union. Elected vice presidents were Edward Harnett of Hudson County; Ronald Watts, Rochester; Thomas Fay, New York Herald Tribune; C. Boehm Rosa, Newburgh-Beacon; and Charles Robie Booth, Utica.

Mrs. Narel has served as delegate to the Empire State District Council for several years. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Spacecraft Reported All Ready

Recovery Areas Noted Improved

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A brightening weather picture buoyed hopes today that astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. will be launched toward a round-the-earth orbit Tuesday after months of delays.

At a morning briefing, Project Mercury officials reported "generally improved conditions" in the Atlantic recovery areas where Marine Lt. Col. Glenn's capsule would descend.

The first half of a split two-day countdown was started at 2:30 a.m. The precount was finished at 6 a.m., with both the Atlas booster rocket and Friendship 7 spacecraft described as in "go" condition.

Officials were shooting for a launch between 7:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Cause for Concern
The weather outlook in the Cape Canaveral vicinity gave officials some concern. A cold front preceded by a squall line was advancing into northern Florida this morning. This could leave lingering cloudiness in the cape area, possibly delaying the shot for the 11th time.

However, officials were hopeful holes could be found in the clouds through which the rocket could be fired.

A complete check of the weather was due for about midnight tonight, after which officials were to make a preliminary decision.

"We feel a lot more optimistic today than we did yesterday," said Lt. Col. John A. Powers, spokesman for the astronauts.

"Conservatively I would say the odds are at least 60-40 in our favor."

Carrier Replaces

Powers said one change had been made in the lineup of ships poised to recover Glenn. The aircraft carrier Forrestal has replaced the carrier Constellation in the area—300 miles east of Bermuda—where Glenn would come down if he made only one orbit, instead of the hoped-for three.

"Relaxed as he can be," Glenn planned to phone his wife and parents tonight before going to bed about 7 or 8 o'clock.

If he completes three orbits, as planned, Glenn will land in the Atlantic about 800 miles southeast of the Cape.

Thinks It Will Clear
Some cloudiness was predicted in the Cape Canaveral area by Tuesday morning. But NASA weather watchers were rooting for it to thin out so Glenn can blast off about 7:30 a.m. EST. Good visibility is a must to permit filming the rocket during the critical early phases of its flight.

Project Mercury officials will make their final go-or-no-go decision, based on the latest weather, at a midnight briefing Monday. There were three postponements last week after such eleventh-hour weather checks.

Technical crews planned to complete the first half of the 14-day mission (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Labor Calls off Strike

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—An uncertain peace settled on this tropical capital today after a siege of rioting, looting and burning. Labor leaders called off their general strike against leftist Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan, but his East Indian followers were reported plotting reprisals in the hinterlands.

British armed forces, hurriedly flown from Jamaica and London on appeal from Jagan, were braced for trouble, although fire-blackened Georgetown was quiet.

Tension Runs High
Racial tensions between Negroes and East Indians ran high after rioting Negro mobs burned a half-mile square of Georgetown's business center and its East Indian stores last Friday. The rioting left six dead, scores injured and $11 million property damage. Jagan, an East Indian himself, gets most of his support from East Indian farmers and workers outside Georgetown. Negroes generally support Forbes Burnham, leader of the People's National Congress party, whom Jagan defeated in last August's election.

Tensions relaxed somewhat Sunday night, with the announcement of labor leaders that they had called off their week-long strike.

The back-to-work call came after the union leaders met three and a half hours with Jagan. One negotiator said Jagan agreed to a series of demands.

A terse radio announcement said the unions, grouping civil servants, government employees and primary schoolteachers, had asked them to return to work with the Trade Union Council also recommending its 12,000 strikers to resume work.

Civil servants and teachers struck for higher wages. The Trades Union Council protested Jagan's plans for higher import taxes and a compulsory savings scheme which the council claimed hurt workers more than the rich.

A Trades Union Council announcement said Jagan promised to impose price controls to prevent importers from passing on duties to consumers and to consider the replacement of the compulsory savings program with a voluntary savings scheme.

Observers said, however, the strike basically was against the leftist leanings of Jagan.

Forecasts Indicate 8-Inch Snowfall Due

Ulster County, staggering under nearly 20 inches of snow which fell in two storms last week is now in the grip of another storm which the weather bureau forecasts will drop up to eight inches in the upper Hudson Valley before it tapers off to flurries Tuesday morning.

The latest storm the third in five days found state, county and city highway crews on the alert. All agencies reported sanders and salters busy as soon as the snow started to fall shortly after 7 a.m. today.

The latest advisory from the U. S. Weather Bureau carried a heavy snow warning of four to eight inches in the upper Hudson Valley and snow, sleet and freezing rain in the lower portion of the valley.

Upwards of three inches of snow had fallen in the Kingston area up to 1 p.m. with lesser amounts northward and westward. However, to the south reports are coming in of snow sleet and rain, particularly in the Town of Lloyd which had a little bit of each up to noon.

Temperatures remained in the middle and upper 20's throughout most of the county, but are showing a warming trend from the mid-teens about daybreak. State wide the coldest spot during the night was Messena with a seven below zero reading while the warmest was 27 above at LaGuardia Field, New York City.

2 Drivers Hurt In Car Mishaps

Two persons were injured and a third escaped unharmed in weekend automobile accidents in the Kingston area. A Port Ewen man, Kenneth V. Shaver, 22, of Prospect Street faces a charge of reckless driving on Feb. 28, in connection with a three-car crash early Sunday on Route 9W in Port Ewen.

According to the sheriff's department, Shaver was driving east when he attempted to pass another car, his automobile skidded across the road, struck the parked station wagon of John Murphy of Port Ewen and the impact drove it into the parked sedan of Donald Van Loan of 229 Lindorf Street, Ulster Park. The Shaver and Murphy vehicles received extensive damage to the left front fenders and the Van Loan car was damaged about the right front fender.

Shaver, who suffered a cut lip, was treated at Kingston Hospital and released. He was charged with reckless driving and when he appeared before Justice of Peace Allan S. Dargie Jr., of Esopus today he asked and received an adjournment to permit him to obtain counsel. Bail of $100 was continued until the hearing set for Wednesday, Feb. 28 at 7 p. m.

Deputy Sheriffs E. T. Kuhnen and C. H. DuMont investigated. A woman driver from Sparrowbush in Orange County, injured in a skidding accident Saturday on Route 213 near Lucas Avenue Extension in High Falls, is reported in good condition today at Kingston Hospital. According to Deputy Sheriff Thomas Mayone, Florence Marsh 54, skidded into an abutment as she was going to Rosendale to see Atty. William P. Curran. She complained of chest and nose injuries and Attorney Curran took her to the hospital. Her car was considerably damaged by the impact.

In another Saturday mishap, John Ponselle, 23, of Jamaica, Long Island, escaped injury when his car hit a guard rail after blowing a rear tire as he headed toward Kingston on Route 28 near Mountain Road about 3:05 a. m. Deputies Kuhnen and DuMont investigated.

Reports Record Year

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York State Power Authority reports 1961 was "a banner year." Chairman Robert Moses said in the authority's annual report, issued Sunday that power was produced at the Niagara project on Feb. 10, three years after a license was received from the Federal Power Commission.

The report cites the authority's work on the St. Lawrence power project, which was put in operation previously.

Youth Is Caught At Poughkeepsie After Gun Theft

Poughkeepsie city police trapped a young burglar early Sunday, they said, minutes after he had broken into the Lucas Machine and Gun Shop at 131 Church Street in that city.

Shortly after 4:15 a. m., Joseph Lucas, 36, manager of the gun shop called police headquarters. He said he had been surprised an intruder in his shop. He said when he ordered the man out, the intruder fired a shot at him and fled. Detective Jack Benton and Officer John Scribner were quickly on the scene and spotted a man slipping into an alleyway near 8 Montgomery Street, only a block away from the burglary site. They called for assistance and a squad of officers went to the scene.

They trapped a young man giving his name as William Wood, 24, of 8 Montgomery Street, they said, still with a revolver in his hands and two more stuck in his trousers' belt. He also had with him, they added, six boxes of ammunition, several wrist watches and more than $12 in silver.

In Poughkeepsie city court today, Wood was granted an adjournment until Friday on charges of assault first degree, burglary third degree, grand larceny second degree and carrying guns without a permit.

Forecasts Indicate 8-Inch Snowfall

tendent Charles J. Cole said sanders have been out since shortly after 7 a. m. and snow loaders are rushing to clear the mid-town Broadway area of the snow which fell last Wednesday and Saturday. He said at noon that if the snow fell in sufficient amounts he would again request motorists to move their cars off the streets by 6 a. m. to facilitate clearing the roads with plows.

The county highway department said its sanders and salters had been on the job since the snowfall started, and a close watch is being kept on all highways. Similar reports came from the state highway departments which said there was snow in most areas. Their man in Clintondale said that area experienced some sleet during mid-morning. The Town of Lloyd Highway Superintendent Peter Anella said at noon that his crews are busy sanding but were having problems with the combination of snow, sleet and rain. He added that up to three inches of snow had fallen there and the temperature at that hour was 22 degrees.

Ellenville village police reported slippery roads and about three inches of snow. The state police sub-station in Leeds, Greene County, said the Catskill area had some two inches of snow. It was packing on the roads and they were slippery. Sanders were out.

A 35-mile an hour speed limit is in effect between New York City and Catskill, Weedsport and Rochester, Batavia and Buffalo. The big highway had snow and sleet between New York City and Weedsport and to the Pennsylvania state line with the road slippery in spots.

Schools are all in session today and authorities were holding off any ruling on Tuesday until they see what develops.

Intermittent periods of snow flurries are forecast during the week with more general precipitation the middle of the week and possibly at the weekend, the weatherman reports.

Normal winter level temperatures are expected throughout the week, turning colder at the beginning and again by Thursday night with a brief warming period at mid-week.

Coach Harlow Dies

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — Dick Harlow, a topnotch coach of college football teams for 36 years, died early today—apparently of a heart attack—at Bethesda Naval Hospital where he has been a patient for several weeks. He was 72.

Harlow started coaching football at his alma mater after he was graduated from Penn State. He then coached successively at Colgate, Western Maryland and Harvard.

Find Infant's Body

NEWFIELD, N.Y. (AP) — The body of a one-day-old girl was found in a dump on the outskirts of this Tompkins County village. State Police said the infant, apparently died of suffocation. She was wrapped tightly in an old blanket and placed in a cardboard box, troopers said.

The child had been dead less than 24 hours when the body was discovered Saturday night by two village residents who had gone to the dump with garbage, troopers said.

Strike Snarls Roads

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A bus strike affecting a million riders combined with snow and sleet today to snarl commuter traffic. Morning traffic along the Route 4 approach to the George Washington Bridge was backed up to the Bergen Mall in Paramus, about nine miles from the bridge. Workers of Public Service Coordinated Transport walked off the job after an emergency, last-ditch effort by Gov. Richard J. Hughes to head off the strike.

Impressed in Poland

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Edward M. Kennedy, brother of the U.S. President, arrived here today from a two-day visit to Communist Poland and said he was "tremendously impressed by the friendship of the Polish people toward the American people."

Gaitskell Hits Views of Birch

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—British Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell says "such extremist views" as those advanced by the John Birch Society "make things worse between the United States and Great Britain."

Addressing a standing-room crowd at Trenton State College Friday night, Gaitskell touched on matters from as far right as the Birch Society to as far left as Communist China.

Gaitskell is in the United States en route to the Anglo-American parliamentary group conference opening Wednesday in Bermuda.

In answer to a question, Gaitskell said he understood the patriotic motives of such groups as the Birch Society, but added: "Their thinking is largely emotional. We must avoid such extremist views. This makes things worse between the United States and Great Britain."

Gaitskell told the group some Americans have the feeling that the British are soft on communism.

"I do not like the word 'soft,'" he said. "It is complete and utter nonsense to think we do not value our liberty."

Referring to Communist China, Gaitskell said his country recognized its government "because it is the government of China." He said he believed Red China should be admitted to the United Nations.

He said the Labor party in Britain was generally in accord with the type of administration that has been conducted by President Kennedy. Gaitskell is to meet with Kennedy on Monday.

Reds New Quarters

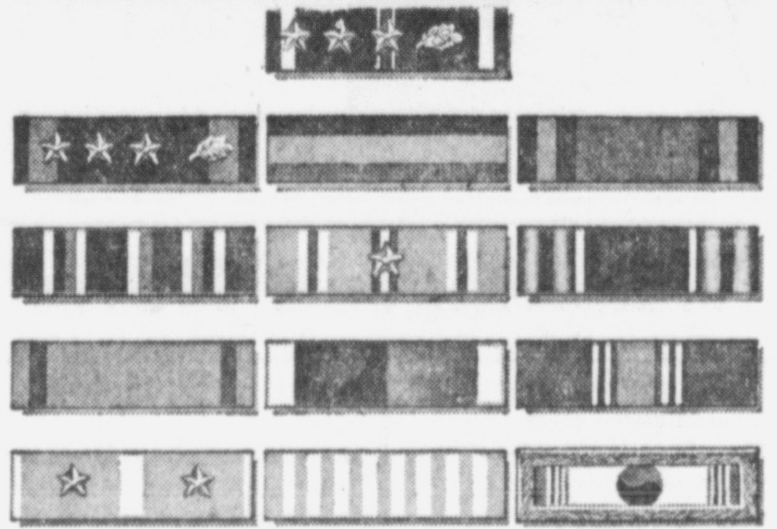

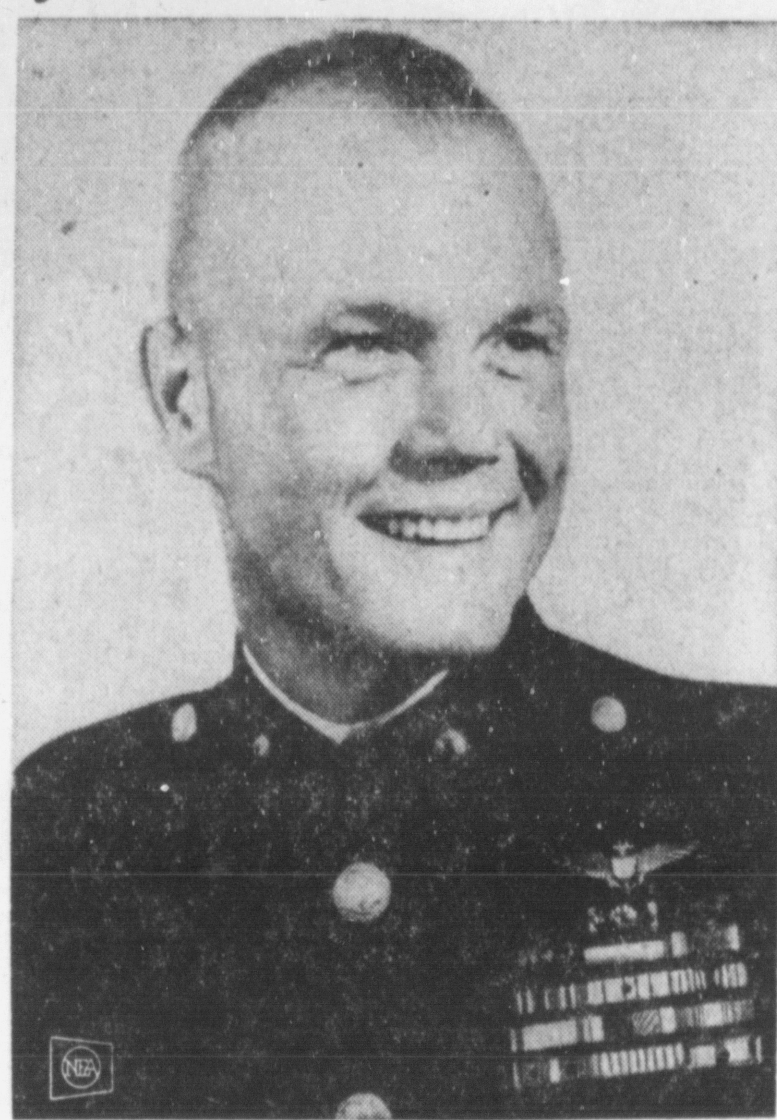

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviet Union has taken over a luxury apartment house on the East Side for its new United Nations mission headquarters, it was disclosed Sunday.

The Russians had been negotiating for the East 67th Street building for some time, but the deal was delayed for settlement of claims by prospective tenants of the building, originally built as a cooperative apartment house.

Papers filed with the attorney general's office showed the Russians paid $3,560,000 for the building.

SYMBOLS OF SERVICE—A chest bright with ribbons tells the story of nearly 20 years' service in the U.S. Navy and Marine Corps for Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., America's first globe-circling astronaut. Ribbons are detailed in sketch. First row, just below pilot's wings: Distinguished Flying Cross, with stars and oak leaf clusters representing five D.F.C.s in all. Second row: Air Medal, with stars and clusters—a total of 18 such medals; Presidential Unit Citation; Navy Unit Commendation Medal. Third row: American Campaign Medal; Asiatic-Pacific Campaign Medal; World War II Victory Medal. Fourth row: China Service Medal; Navy Occupation Medal; National Defense Service Medal. Fifth row: Korean Service Medal; United Nations Service Medal; and, lastly, Korean Presidential Citation.

Bruno Walter, 85, Fatally Stricken

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Conductor Bruno Walter, a perfectionist with a gentle temperament, is dead of a heart attack at the age of 85.

The German-born Walter, who wielded his baton for 68 years, died suddenly Saturday in his Beverly Hills home.

Walter, a naturalized U.S. citizen, came to this country in 1939 when Adolf Hitler stepped up his persecution of German Jews. He was virtually a world citizen, conducting famous symphony orchestras throughout Europe.

Walter's career began at 4 when a musician friend told Bruno's shopkeeper father that the youth had true pitch—he could exactly duplicate the finest tonal differences of a pitchpipe. He made his debut as a concert pianist at 9 and at 17 he conducted for the first time.

Postmasters Named

Edith L. Walker, Farnham; Olga A. Mihanovich, Glenham; Stanley W. Cernak, Holcomb and Edna M. Mulvey, Wilmington.

Nixons Visit Ike

PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and his wife, Pat, spent the weekend with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower at this desert resort.

Nixon and Eisenhower planned a round of golf together today. The two posed for photographers at the Eisenhower's winter home but ruled out questions on politics. Nixon is seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination in California.

DYNASTY CLASH—With a Massachusetts seat in the U. S. Senate as a tempting political plum, President Kennedy and House speaker John McCormack soon may find themselves in a dynastic feud. Principal Democratic personalities mentioned for the seat vacated by the President are his younger brother, Edward Kennedy, left, an assistant district attorney in Boston, and Edward J. McCormack Jr., right, Massachusetts attorney general and nephew and protégé of the House speaker.

Sees School Aid Defeat

Says Kennedy Lacks Votes To Approve Housing Unit

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is a period in American politics of the presidential velvet touch in handling Congress where members of both parties often mill around like orphans.

President Eisenhower started the smooth and rather soft approach. President Kennedy followed it. This avoidance of head-on clashes and nagging brawls may explain their high standing in public opinion polls.

They might have gotten more from Congress by being tougher. That's a guess. President Truman was tougher but he had troubles. Where he used a constant harpoon, Kennedy employs only a needle, and then infrequently.

No Change in Sight

The Truman-Eisenhower-Kennedy troubles with Congress have had a single origin and no change is in sight.

All that those who call themselves Democrats have in common, and the same goes for Republicans, is a rubbery party label. Both are split into liberal, middle-roads and the very conservative.

The result is a political mish-mash and a kind of general befuddlement for voters who don't keep records.

If they did, the record would show: The liberals of both parties have more in common than they have with their own conservatives while the latter enjoy a far more instant affinity than they do for the liberals or middle-roads in either party.

Free Trade Favored

In the House the Democrats, overwhelmingly outnumbering the Republicans, could put through any Kennedy program if they voted as a party. But only Sunday House speaker John McCormack acknowledged: Right now Kennedy doesn't have enough votes in the House to avoid rejection of his plan for creating a new department of urban affairs and housing.

He predicted approval for the President's free trade program, federal aid for universities and colleges, and not much chance for Kennedy's program of aid to public schools.

GOP Is Divided

The Republicans, in this congressional election year when their best hope for picking up a few seats is some indication that they know what they stand for, are split among themselves six ways from Sunday.

The difference in their views is just the current example of the American political hash in which party labels mean something only sometimes.

For instance, Arizona's Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater, who is making a career of being a conservative, has more in common with some conservative Southern Democrats than with another leader of his party who has shown more liberal views, New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

It was on Rockefeller that Kennedy recently used one of his infrequent needles when he jibed that he wasn't sure any more that the governor wasn't moving to the right of Goldwater.

Begins Training

Jon K. Rowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rowe of Route 5, Kingston, began training, Jan. 29, at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the nine-week training, recruits receive training in military etiquette, drill, physical fitness, swimming and survival, first aid, shipboard safety precautions and security duty. A planned recreation program is also included.

Throughout the training, recruits receive specialized counseling which assists them in selecting a rating in which to work from more than 65 available job specialties.

Receives Army Award

Army Specialist Four William C. Sill, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Sill, 296 Broadway, recently received a Department of the Army suggestion award certificate for submitting an idea which improved the operations of his unit motor pool in Wiesbaden, Germany.

Sill, an ordnance parts specialist in Headquarters Battery of the 1st Artillery in Wiesbaden, entered the Army in August 1959 and was last stationed at Fort Dix, N. J.

The 21-year-old soldier, whose wife, Patricia, is with him in Germany, was graduated from Kingston High School in 1959.

World's first large public library was founded in Boston in 1852.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, FEBRUARY 19, 1962

HEART OF THE MATTER

The case for citizen contributions to the annual February Heart Fund drive is easy to make. More than half the yearly deaths in the United States result from heart ailments and related blood vessel diseases.

Some people may imagine that with the federal government established in heart research through the National Heart Institute there is no need to enlarge private research efforts or perhaps even maintain them at current levels.

Obviously, however the more individuals and groups who are digging into the problem, the more likely it is we may find the critical answers to the nation's biggest health scourge.

In the 1960-61 fiscal year, about 1,400 individuals undertook heart studies in programs under the guidance of the American Heart Assn.

The agency's research committee says other "scientifically meritorious" inquiries could be started if more money were available. But as matters stand, rising research costs actually are constricting present efforts.

The call, therefore, is for a bigger 1962 contribution than the $26 million total reached the two previous years. Says AHA: "There are dangers in permitting basic medical research to come entirely under the aegis of government, or indeed of any single granting agency. . . .

"It is clear that many of the programs initiated (by AHA) have been successful because they have been emulated by government and by other voluntary health agencies.

"Only by sustaining this trail-blazing role can other new concepts be developed. . . .

Thus, say the Heart Fund's managers, those Americans who respond to their appeal will be helping to attack the leading cause of death in this country, and at the same time sustaining the useful role of private research in a period when government tends more and more to command the field of scientific inquiry.

THE PROPER CONCLUSIONS

Both in percentages and in absolute numbers, the regularly scheduled airlines had a much better safety year in 1961 than in 1960. The improved performance deserves more attention than it has had.

The fatality rate per 100 million passenger miles flown was an estimated 0.29, third lowest in aviation history. With a record 58 million passengers carried, 124 were killed. In 1960 the fatality rate was 0.75 and the death toll a staggering 336.

The 1961 toll was the lowest since 1958, when the figure was about the same but passenger volume was only 49 million.

As heartening as the 1961 showing is, it leaves no ground for complacency. With increasingly heavy traffic volume, low fatality rates can be achieved even as actual tolls rise.

Najeeb Halaby, Federal Aviation administrator, will find wide agreement with his sensible judgment that in this age of growing air travel and big-capacity planes, annual death tolls upwards of 200 are totally unacceptable. Safety programs must be built around that conviction.

BOOSTER SHOT

Constantly remarked is this nation's shortage of doctors, dentists, nurses and medical technicians.

Yet it probably would be worse had not so many veterans of World War II and the Korean war chosen training in these fields under the GI bills.

The Veterans Administration puts the total thus schooled at 276,000; almost 90,000 trained in medicine and surgery, 31,500 in dentistry, 16,400 in nursing, 16,600 in premedical work. The remainder were scattered among various related fields.

Study under GI provisions has largely ended for World War II personnel. But veterans of Korea are still eligible.

It is sensible to hope that these encouraging numbers in the vital medical field may be enlarged still further.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

BOBBY'S TRIP

Henry J. Taylor, against whom I bear no malice and with whom off on a Tuesday I chit-chat over a viand in good company, regards himself as an authority on international relations, having been Ambassador to Switzerland, a lesser country engaged mostly in producing milk-chocolate and providing tax havens. Harry apparently does not appreciate Bobby Kennedy travelling over Asia and Europe and having a look-see at the doings of diplomats, politicians, merchants, and others who live outside the United States.

Bobby Kennedy, apart from being the President's brother and despite such a relationship, is an experienced investigator, having served on the McCarthy Committee and the McClellan Committee of the United States Senate and having written an important book, "The Enemy Within." He has gone through the labor unions of the country, leaving nothing to be discovered that is corrupt and he is now teaching American business that the law must be obeyed, no matter how big the company.

Were he not the President's brother, it would be found satisfactory to send him on a mission of investigation underwritten by a foundation or some other enterprise. Because he is the President's brother political enemies raise the cry of nepotism which gives the impression that only one member of a family is genetically endowed with ability, capacity and imagination. Of the Kennedy brothers, Bobby is to my liking because he fights for many causes that I believe important.

One of the misfortunes of our country is the mismanagement of the State Department and the CIA. The President has to do something about it. President Eisenhower should have done something about it. Therefore a prime investigator, who happens to be Attorney General of the United States, is moving about the world looking at why this country is so badly represented abroad. Nearly all the Kennedys are on this job and when they come home the President will have first-hand knowledge of what goes.

My good friend, Harry, the erstwhile Ambassador, calls it a "junket." Bobby Kennedy and his wife take the cheers and jeers that now-a-days come to American celebrities. Harry Taylor worries about the cost of this trip. He says:

"The government's spending is colossal. We foot the bill for every penny. Anything that smacks of an idea that a few millions here or there makes little difference is a terrible injustice. It is a symptom of a malaise at the top."

We are throwing away billions of dollars on futile activities. If a prime investigator, who Robert Kennedy is, can discover what is done with this money and why it is being spent, we might not only get a dollar's worth of return for our money but we might even save huge amounts. At any rate, someone is on the job who can discover what all the little devils who sit around eating cream-puffs and denouncing their own country, are up to.

This does not mean that there is a quarrel between the President and Secretary of State, Dean Rusk. It does not mean that the President plans to make his brother Secretary of State. It does mean that the President knows that he was misinformed concerning Cuba; that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was misinformed concerning Cuba and that that must not happen again to a President of the United States and a Secretary of State.

Henry Taylor says: "It is especially lamentable that Mr. Kennedy would permit even the slightest impression that he is squandering anything on his brother. Property was already strained when he appointed his younger brother Attorney General of the United States in the first place. Leaders throughout American life avoid nepotism like a plague."

This is nonsense. The Kennedys can afford to pay their own bills if anyone insists upon it. Furthermore, no nepotism is involved in the appointment of Bobby. Since the day of John Adams, our second President, able sons of great fathers and brothers have served in our government. Dr. Milton Eisenhower served in numerous capacities while his brother was President and Harry Taylor never complained about that. In fact, two great families, the Adamases and the Tafts served their country during its long history. To make the point that ability should be set aside because of blood relationship is childish in an era when ability is so sorely sought.

Body's Reaction to Danger
Is an Amazing Mechanism

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

What is called the "alarm reaction" in medicine is a result of an outpouring of an internal glandular secretion called epinephrine. And epinephrine is identical in its actions with the drug we know as Adrenalin.

Now an outpouring of epinephrine and a shot of Adrenalin result in the following: A quickened pulse rate, elevation of blood pressure, faster and deeper breathing, tensing of muscles even to the point of having fists clench and fingers quiver, hair up on end, face deathly pale or deeply flushed, elevation of blood sugar so as to have an emergency ration of fuel at hand, speedier clotting time to minimize blood loss in case of a wound and enormous increase in white blood cell population to provide first-aid at "field casualty stations."

And the overall picture is preparation for an emergency. Just as a nation mobilizes for war, this is a truly pushbutton mobilization by tissues that "learned" to mobilize centuries before the idea of a "pushbutton war" was thought of.

Up to this point, we have a fair understanding of the "alarm reaction." Both in health and disease, in individuals and in nations.

But what happens beyond this point? Why does the rabbit "freeze"? The mouse turn and run? Or the rhinoceros charge?

Why do some of us stand transfixed? Others take to our heels? Still other start banging away without thought to odds or consequences? Why do some of us go to pieces? Fall in a faint? Have a "nervous breakdown"? Break out in hives? Develop an attack of asthma? Or rise to the occasion and perform heroic feats of which we never thought ourselves capable?

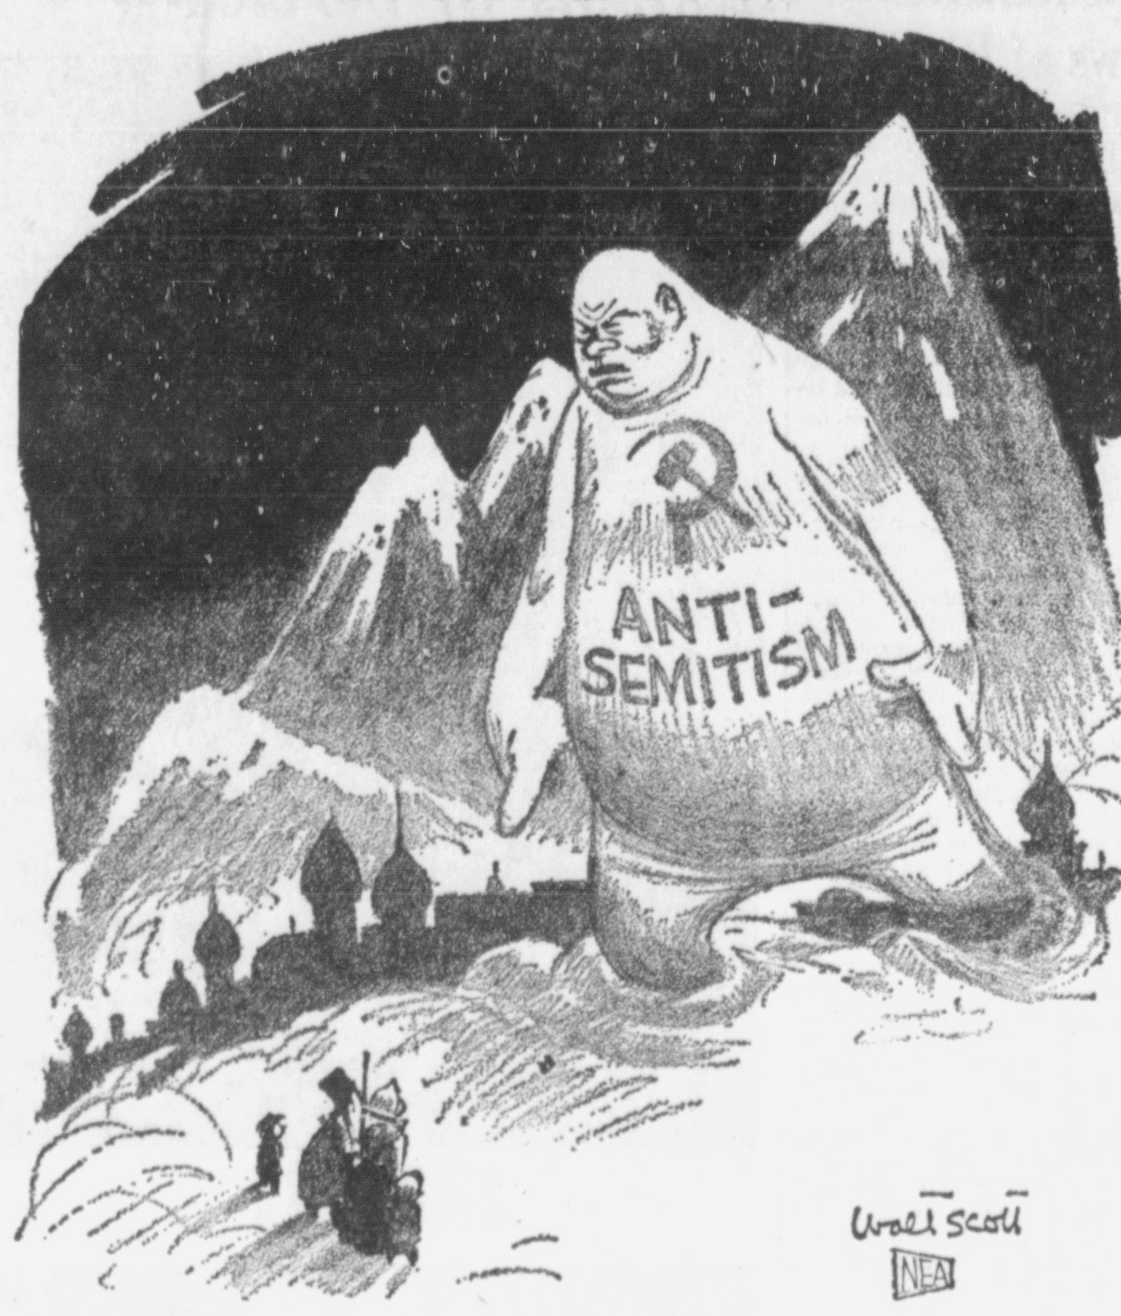

I don't suppose anyone knows the answers to these questions. Certainly they are beyond my understanding.

But this I think I do know. We respond more efficiently and more courageously when we've been prepared to respond. Maybe by seeing our parents or a companion rise to an occasion. Maybe by reading a book such as our president's "Profiles in Courage." Maybe by studying the life of a heroic man or woman whom we have learned to admire.

All of which brings me the long way around to a point on which I've dwelled before. Namely the well-intended but long-range folly of bringing up children too protectively. Of trying to shield them from the unpleasantness and hardships of life. Of determining that they'll be spared the knocks and bruises we had to take in our upbringing. Of treating them "permissively" while they're young, on the theory that there'll be time enough later for them to find out that they are in a biologic battle for survival almost every day of their lives.

The Abominable Snowman

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—The job of making an action program out of the nine resolutions adopted by the Latin-American foreign ministers after nine days of struggling at Punta del Este, Uruguay, now falls on the Council of the Organization of American States—OAS—in Washington.

Two of the nine resolutions are considered of special importance. They are Resolution II, which calls for the establishment of Western Hemisphere security against international communism, and Resolution VIII, which calls for severance of economic relations with Castro's Cuba.

RESOLUTION II sets up in the OAS Council a consultative committee of experts to warn its member governments against any acts of aggression, subversion or dangers to peace and security from continued intervention of Sino-Soviet powers in the Western Hemisphere.

The watchdog committee is to be selected by the OAS council from lists of nominees submitted by each of the now 20-member countries. The committee will also have authority to recommend to member countries measures for collective self-defense and for countering threats or acts of aggression.

The committee reports are to be secret unless released by the receiving governments. It may take some weeks to get this group organized, but it is required to submit its first summary report to the Council by May 1, 1962.

RESOLUTION VIII on economic relations with Cuba calls for the suspension of all trade with the Castro government in arms and implements of war of every kind. This will outlaw inter-American gun running and Cuban shipments of arms to other countries. But it will not block shipments of arms to Cuba from other Communist countries, which would be an act of war.

Resolution VIII also calls on the OAS council to consider extending the suspension of trade with Cuba on other items, with special attention to strategic supplies.

So far, the United States is the only country that has placed an embargo on all trade with Cuba. But 14 other American republics have broken diplomatic relations with Cuba in the last three years. So tightening of trade restrictions is expected. This would be in line with OAS action in suspending trade relations with Dominican Republic's Trujillo government.

THREE OTHER PUNTA DEL ESTE RESOLUTIONS give the OAS Council new responsibilities. Cuba was excluded from further participation in the Inter-American system by Resolution VI and was expelled from the Inter-American Defense Board by Resolution VII.

Before these bans may be lifted and normal trade relations with Cuba re-established, there must be approval by two-thirds of the members of the Organization of American States.

By Resolution IX the OAS Council was also instructed to broaden and strengthen the Inter-mary report to the Council by May 1, 1962.

By coincidence a rude though harmless rebellion against royalty and its prerogatives and gaits is disturbing the peace in England. At the same time, our own people openly display more and more desire for a system which our ancestors rejected by force and heroic hunger at Valley Forge. Noisy individuals recently kicked up a bloodless row at Oxford to repudiate The Crown as a symbol of their nationality. And a handful of muckers in the London press have enhanced themselves financially by writing nasty things about the Gracious Queen.

Although the British Press has given us some classical satirists and reformers and some fine reporters of events, it has in the last forty years been imitating the worst of our own journalism. The public delight in such clumsy rubbish has astonished Americans and quite upset the better classes of Britain.

It was Lord Northcliffe who introduced this. He was a vain and, latterly, maniacal showman who played upon The People as Hitler was to do in Germany not much later as time flies. Northcliffe destroyed a precious beauty in public expression which he could not repair. The nasty hacks who have blown raspberries at the Queen are whelps of the Northcliffe pack. They probably are achieving some injury to The Crown and it is not unthinkable that in a few years Great Britain will become an ugly imitation of our own worst features.

Meanwhile, starting with President Wilson, the strayed descendants of our Revolution have unmistakably indulged a yearning for that which our Founding Fathers renounced. President Harding was only a goat-rider as the bellhops in the big hotels call the grand exalted nabobs of the fraternities which commit hubbub in baggy pants and fezzes at their national conventions. He liked badges and epaulettes. Oddly, his two successors in the Last Days of the American Republic were offensively sedate. But our Democrats always were climbers and snobs even when their immigrant ancestors lived on the wrong side of the tracks. They have groveled like English navvies and Scotch shepherds as our royal system has sprouted and flowered.

The principal complaint against royalty in England now is that it costs too much. This may be a deception. Actually, the original investment in Buckingham, St. James', Balmoral, Windsor and other such hutments was depleted long ago. The original cost of the labor was a trifle, the land was stolen and title remains with the Crown. The inventory of silver and linen is static. Thus the occupants get only the value of a ter-American, Commission on Human Rights statute so as to establish international legal protection for these rights throughout the Western Hemisphere.

The other four resolutions adopted by the foreign ministers are largely declaratory and final, requiring no further executive action by the OAS Council.

THE LITTLE-PUBLICIZED OAS council, made up of a special ambassador from each American republic, meets regularly on the first and third Wednesdays of each month in the Pan American Union building.

In the past few years the council has held more special than regular sessions because of recurring Cuban, Dominican and other Latin-American crises.

Significance of the council's actions on these matters is not generally understood nor appreciated in the U. S. as they are elsewhere.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

reasonable rent, subject to discounts for various considerations. If a family is required to live in certain premises to hold a job, that should reduce the cash value of the rent. When Mr. Truman was our Ruler, I had an angry scrap with Mr. Oliphant of the Internal Revenue about the principle of that. I contended that Truman ought to pay rent for the vacation house which he occupied on the Naval Station at Key West. Mr. Oliphant said the President's job went wherever he went and we had to provide him quarters wherever.

Mr. Oliphant then called in one of those lawyers who got in Dutch in the Treasury scandals and this expert explained that the President as Commander-in-Chief had a right to free Government quarters on the Naval Base.

You can't lick them when they get that royal savor on their lips.

Similarly, Harold Ickes, as Secretary of the Interior, got rent free at a furnished jigsaw mansion on the Island of Bar Harbor which belonged to the Department of the Interior. Similarly, Henry Morgenthau got a Coast Guard plane with fuel and two pilot officers to fly him home to Hyde Park for week-ends and a ground escort of relays of Internal Revenue agents to follow him on the roads just in case. The expenditure was lavish, but we are sampling royalty and like it.

When Our Leader went to the Aleutians we turned out a cruiser and made alterations to provide a special elevator for him. When Eleanor went calling on Joe Lash in the Pacific she got a four-engine bomber with five officers at our expense. All we were told was that she gave the income from her column for the elapsed time to the Red Cross, which refused to tell us how much. That seemed a great bargain.

Did we object to the expense? Nobody but Pegler, the cad!

President Kennedy is reeking rich but he flies so many places in so many kinds of aircraft that, with a reverent tug at my forelock, I wonder how they keep their accounts. Does he have to go to Cape Cod for weekends? And down to Virginia and Palm Beach? Those are not public scheduled flights and the cost might mount up, even for an endowed young millionaire.

This is not a complaint, I am a Tory and Royalist, myself.

My motto now is "Shoot the works!" But I wonder if it costs the British as much to support their small royal coterie, considering the Queen's hard work and long hours and her yellow-dog contract, which precludes side-money for teevy, testimonials and personal appearances.

Eisenhower 'Other Cheek' Quote Cited for Fairness

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Nikita Khrushchev may not have had a chance as yet to read a verbatim account of what former President Eisenhower said about him on the CBS television last Thursday night to a nation-wide audience in America, but when the Soviet Premier does, he ought to take it to heart. For it was a fine example of what Christian philosophy means as manifested by the very man against whom Mr. Khrushchev intemperately flung insults in May 1960, calling him a "scoundrel" and a "thief."

The question asked by Walter Cronkite of CBS was what Mr. Eisenhower thought of Mr. Khrushchev. There was no reference made to the Bible but, after hearing the former President's reply, this correspondent thought at once of some verses in St. Luke wherein Jesus is quoted as follows:

"But I say unto you which hear: love your enemies, do good to them which hate you.

"Bless them that curse you, and pray for them which despitefully use you.

"And unto him that smiteth thee on the one cheek offer also the other."

Personalities Avoided

Mr. Eisenhower's appraisal of the Soviet Premier's personality was a fair analysis and to avoid any personal resentments. The transcript of the concluding portion of Mr. Eisenhower's remarks was as follows:

"Now, I don't think that Mr. Khrushchev is, himself, necessarily a cruel man, but he is raised in the doctrine of force. They give it the euphemism of the 'dictatorship of the proletariat.' That is just another way of saying 'dictator.' But so he, I would think, by himself would be disposed, I think, to make as good an agreement as he could as long as he didn't have to open his country. But we can see no way of making such an agreement until he does open it, and I think we are right. I just do not believe we should make a single concession on that point—that if we are going to make these (disarmament) agreements, the country must be opened sufficiently, just as ours is, so we can see what the other fellow is doing.

"And that is, I think, just one of the basic tenets of his life and, therefore, you are never going to get an appraisal of his personal characteristics.

Closed Society Control

"Now, I really think he very much wants peace in the world. He would like very much to have an assurance there was going to be no war, but this would be on his own terms so that he would not open his society, because I am sure every piece of evidence we have shows that he has a tremendous faith in his ability to keep control of Russia as long as it is a closed society. He does not want any free-wheeling reporters—television or press or otherwise—going all over that country and reporting about it, and particularly reporting of them (the Russians). He doesn't, I think, mind what you report about him here. It is that he is very carefully about what you can report about him and his actions there. To that he is very sensitive."

This writer, on hearing the last part quoted above, was immediately reminded of a comment which Josef Stalin made in 1945 to Harry Hopkins as reported in The Saturday Evening Post by the late Robert Sherwood. When the Russian dictator said he was sensitive to what his own "public opinion" would think of the abrupt cancellation of lend-lease aid by the United States. Mr. Hopkins looked skeptical. Mr. Stalin said, in effect, "Don't smile, we have our public opinion, too."

No better definition of what he probably had in mind could be found than that which Mr. Eisenhower gave last week, and it helps to understand even the problems of a present-day dictator. It emphasizes more than ever the need to penetrate the Iron Curtain through spiritual means and by the same kind of friendliness, yet firmness, that Dwight Eisenhower exhibited in his recent talk on television.

Questions -- Answers

Q—Are former members of Congress allowed to register with the government as lobbyists?
A—Yes.

Q—What population must a community have to be classed as a city?
A—A total of 5,000.

Q—Why do we no longer refer to a cent as a "copper"?
A—Possibly because all cents minted since 1946 have been in bronze.

Q—Who designed the costumes worn by the Swiss Guards who patrol Vatican City?
A—Michelangelo.

Q—Why does an Egyptian speak of "going up" when he is going south?
A—To go "up" in Egypt is to go south, because going up means following the course of the Nile River upstream.

Q—How long can seals remain under water?
A—Ten to 30 minutes.

Investor Forum

FLEXIBLE POLICIES

The president of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York recently made a very significant speech to a distinguished group of bankers and industrialists. One statement in that speech may well be heeded by millions of investors who are too set in their ways: "There is a real need for monetary policy to remain entirely uncommitted and flexible."

Of course, he was speaking of the role of banking in the complicated military, economic and political world. He suggested that possibly in the future the tremendous resources of the Federal Reserve Bank might aid the United States Treasury Department in fields requiring help.

The Reserve Bank's assets are enormous. On Dec. 1, 1961, they totaled nearly $53 billions. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York alone had almost $13 billions on that date. It may be the most powerful bank in the world.

But the thing to be stressed here is this: the fluid character of the world economy points up the necessity for investors to have "flexible policies."

Lately in this column I have been saying that scores of common stocks are selling to yield 1/2 of 1 per cent to 2 per cent. In most cases the quality of the stocks is high. But the rises in prices have far outrun the income yields.

Thousands of such common stock investors need to adopt a "flexible policy."

Right now, any investor can buy a United States Treasury 2 1/2 per cent bond due within 10 years for about 86 cents on the dollar. In other words, $10,000 worth of such bonds paying $250 a year can be bought for about $8,600. If they are held to maturity, a profit of $1,400 is sure to accrue and this profit averaged over the period will result in a yearly yield of about 4.14 per cent.

Many investors get muddled about their stocks. I would wager that in America today there are a million stubborn stockholders who should cultivate "flexible policies."

America as an investor nation is still in kindergarten. The majority of stockholders have mistaken notions about what common stocks are for.

Eight out of ten such investors will tell you that common stocks are vehicles of profit and they will never mention sound, dependable income as a motive for buying good equities.

Investment forums are being held all over America, usually for the purpose of selling something. The ramifications of risk, income and control are seldom discussed. Thus people's minds become impervious to change, and bad investment decisions frequently result.

The Forum

Hundreds of readers of this column have lately asked where U.S. Treasury bonds can be bought. Go to your own bank and tell a leading officer you want to buy some.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved a bit higher on balance in moderate early trading today.

Gains of fractions to around a point among key stocks outnumbered losers. Oils, steels, and chemicals were generally higher. Little change was shown by motors, electronics, aerospace issues, tobacco, airlines and rubbers. Rails were narrowly mixed.

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed.

Armistice for 2 Months

See Union Peace Pact Holding Up Favorably

By NORMAN WALKER

Associated Press Labor Writer

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP)—

AFL-CIO leaders opening their winter meeting said today the two-month-old armistice between feuding union groups appears to be holding up well.

Rival wings of the 12.5-million member union federation, representing the building trades and industrial union departments, reached a peace pact at a convention here in December.

Union leaders attending the AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting said that the comparative harmony has led to agreement to push joint legislative drives in Congress for measures on which there had been differing enthusiasms before.

Industrial unions reportedly have agreed to back the building trades in supporting amendments to the Davis-Bacon Act to include fringe benefits, such as pensions and welfare funds, along with pay rates in calculating prevailing wages on federal construction projects.

The government requires contractors working on such projects to meet the prevailing wages for the particular areas as determined by the government. Inclusion of fringe benefits would raise the prevailing wage determination and thus make it more certain that union contractors must match

union-type labor costs.

The industrial unions also have agreed to help push another building trades goal, tightening overtime pay requirements on federal aid construction projects. Here again the aim primarily is to stiffen overtime pay obligations of nonunion contractors.

The industrial and building trades unions are nearing agreement, too, on still another legislative proposal. This seeks to legalize picketing at construction projects and factory gates where such picketing is now prohibited by the ban on secondary boycotts.

The new-found cooperation within the AFL-CIO is an outgrowth of the December agreement to curb union jurisdictional disputes through a new type of peace machinery.

State after June 30, 1964 be equipped with front-seat belts.

Budget—Legislative fiscal committees continued their study of Rockefeller's $2.6-billion budget for the fiscal year beginning April

1. A vote is not scheduled before next week.

On the question of a Korean bonus, a committee of representatives from state veterans groups claiming 426,680 members met in Albany Sunday to coordinate efforts to win legislative approval of the bonus.

John McNamara, state commander of the American Legion, said he hoped to have a favorable report from Rockefeller Monday night, when the governor will address the Legion's 43rd annual legislative dinner.

The bonus would be paid in amounts ranging from $50 to $250, depending on length of service and whether overseas duty was involved.

A one-cent increase in the cigarette tax would add $25 million to current collections of $129 million a year.

The ranks of bonus advocates were swelled Sunday by the addition of five Republican senators, who said that the proposed tax hike should be terminated as soon as the bonds were retired.

Earlier, Democratic legislators had announced that they favored the bonus. The developing support among Republicans was evidence of majority backing of the measure.

The Republican senators who called for recognition of "personal sacrifices" by the veterans were

Janet Hill Gordon, Norwich; William F. Condon, Yonkers; Albert

Berkowitz, Granville; William T.

Conklin, Brooklyn; and John J.

Marchi, Staten Island.

Throughout the week optimism reigned both in Paris and Tunis over progress of the talks. But over the weekend there was a note of pessimism with reports from

Tunis that difficulties had cropped up.

The French and the Algerians

Arizona Senator Completes Fifty Years in Office

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Carl Hayden, who swapped his Western sheriff's badge for a seat in Congress five days after Arizona became a state, today becomes the first man to serve as a member of Congress for 50 years.

The 84-year-old Democrat, third in line of succession to the presidency, was sworn into the House of Representatives Feb. 19, 1912. After 15 years as Arizona's only representative in the House, Hayden moved to the Senate in 1927.

Dean of Senate

Today he is dean of the Senate and the Congress. However, he is little known outside Washington because he resolutely shuns publicity and rarely speaks in public.

Hayden was asked in a recent interview to name his greatest accomplishment.

"I just can't do it," he said. "A man does one piece of work one time, another piece of work, and then another. To look back 50 years and say one thing is more important than another is something I can't do."

Recalls Early Days

"When I got here, the territory had just become a state and it had many problems and needs," he said. "I asked for committees that could be most helpful in that regard, and I got them because there was little demand from others for them."

Hayden, a tall, lean, bald man who smokes cigars, is president pro tempore of the Senate, a position that goes to the member of the majority party who has served longest. This puts him third in line to the presidency, behind Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Speaker of the House John McCormack.

Committee Chairman

When Hayden moved to the Senate in 1927, he was assigned to the Committee on Appropriations—he became its chairman in 1935—and the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads.

Specializing in roads, Hayden deplored the lack of a definite plan for a network of roads covering the whole United States. He recalls that he told state highway commissioners meeting in Washington to go home and work out plans for a national system.

"They did that," Hayden said. "And the result is the fine system we have today."

Hayden identifies as his biggest piece of unfinished business the authorization and construction of a billion-dollar federal irrigation project for central Arizona.

Liz Is Reported Somewhat Better

ROME (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor was reported making a rapid recovery today after being rushed to the hospital with a mysterious ailment that turned out to be food poisoning.

Doctors said the frail 29-year-old beauty, star of the movie spectacle Cleopatra now being filmed in Rome, should be able to leave the hospital by Tuesday.

Miss Taylor was sped by ambulance to the hospital Saturday night from her luxurious villa. A family spokesman and officials of 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. in Rome denied at first that the actress was sick. This only led to a flood of speculation that she was gravely ill for there was an emergency call for an ambulance to her home here.

Miss Taylor's personal physician said later she was stricken with food poisoning, apparently from eating tainted oysters.

800 Members Here Join 66,498 to Observe 4-H Week

A total of 66,498 youth in New York State will observe National 4-H Club Week, March 3-10. The young people are among the 2,296,000 4-Hers who belong to about 93,000 4-H Clubs in urban, sub-urban, and rural areas throughout the United States.

Ulster County has an enrollment of over 800 4-H members. There are 66 4-H Clubs of which 22 are Agriculture, 36 Home-making and eight mixed clubs.

The week has a number of local and national aims including:

To give members a chance to measure progress and set new goals; influence more youth to join or form 4-H Clubs; acquaint more parents with the organization and enlist their aid; encourage more persons to volunteer as Local 4-H Leaders; stress learning to live and serve cooperatively with others and recognize the major part played by Friends of 4-H.

The week will be highlighted in Washington, D. C., by a team of 4-H'ers, representing members everywhere, who will give the annual "4-H Report to the Nation."

The report will review in story and pictures outstanding 4-H achievements and current projects. While in the nation's capital, the reporter-delegates will visit the White House, meet members of Congress, high government officials and other national leaders. After a short stay in Washington, they expect to go elsewhere for a few days to meet with other friends of 4-H. Sharing honors with club members in all states will be nearly 310,700 men and women who serve as unpaid volunteer 4-H Leaders, and guide 4-H work in local communities throughout the 50 states and Puerto Rico.

In Ulster County there are 108 men and women volunteer leaders who help guide and carry on 4-H Club work. The 4-H executive committee composed of nine men and women set policies and guide the 4-H program.

General Assembly Expected to Vote On Key Projects

HARRISBURG (AP)—With Feb. 26 as a tentative date for final adjournment, the General Assembly returns today to resume work on appropriation bills and Project 70.

Senate Majority Leader Charles R. Weiner, who said he hoped the Assembly's work could be completed by that date, indicated over the weekend he would call the 71 appropriation bills to a final vote today.

The bills would implement Gov. Lawrence's $1 billion budget.

Weiner also indicated he would call Project 70 to a vote. The measure is an amendment to the State Constitution which would permit the sale of $70 million in bonds to finance the land preservation program.

Conserves Space

Project 70 is a program designed to conserve open spaces in the rapidly expanding urban areas while simultaneously providing flood control, water supply and recreational facilities for future use.

The House, which also returns today, awaits the Project 70 measure. It has no business scheduled today.

One of the appropriation bills now in the Senate has a doubtful future. It contains a 9.1 million rider inserted by House Republicans to provide more aid to public schools.

Se ate Democrats, lacking one vote to control passage of legislation in the body, will caucus today whether to fight the amendment or let it pass.

May Pass Measure

The Democratic leadership may choose to let the measure pass because some Democratic senators from non-urban areas have expressed their favor for it.

The plan then would be to let Gov. Lawrence veto the school subsidy rider, which he was said he would do on grounds the rider would unbalance the budget.

Senate Republican leader James S. Berger said he felt that most of the appropriations bills could be cleared today, but added that it would be up to the GOP caucus.

"I don't know of any particular amendments on our side," he said.

Berger declined to speculate on the chance for passage of the Project 70 bill.

"I have had some talks with our fellows and we might try to amend the bill to make sure its purpose is specifically stated to apply principally to urban areas," he said, adding:

"We don't see the need of the state grabbing up a lot of land in rural areas."

Weather, Not Dike Seen Cause for Niagara Ice Jam

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—A huge ice jam last month in the upper Niagara River was caused by an unusual combination of weather factors instead of the Niagara Power Project's diversion dike, engineers say.

Four engineers Saturday described as "absurd" a demand by the city of Niagara Falls that the dike be removed.

The ice pileup Jan. 10 forced a near-shutdown of the $720 million public power project and produced minor flooding. Private utilities that draw power from the project tapped standby sources and the power loss was felt as far east as Vermont.

The Niagara Falls city council later charged that the 2,200-foot dike, designed to speed the flow of water in the upper Niagara River into the project's intakes, had caused the ice buildup.

The engineering panel said Sunday, however, that the dike had helped flush the ice downriver toward the rapids and falls.

Col. William S. Chapin, the State Power Authority's chief engineer, said strong, prolonged winds and an extended cold spell were the main reasons for the ice jam that hit the project in its first full winter of operation.

He cited a similar situation in January, 1945, when ice jammed the booms protecting the Adams and Schoellkopf power plants.

In the case of the Niagara Project, the panel said, the power cutback was not caused by ice blocking the intakes because the intakes were far enough below the ice to get plenty of water.

Instead, the intake of water was purposely cut to keep a high river level and help move the ice, the engineers said.

One U. S. dollar will buy 360 Japanese yen at the official rate of exchange.

Not Demolished

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—

City officials have discovered that an ordinance regulating building demolition has one flaw: it doesn't require that the job be finished. The officials discovered this when they tried to take action on complaints against a theater owner who tore down everything except the front wall of the theater.

Gets 3 Awards For His Fight On Communism

George E. Sokolsky, whose column "These Days," syndicated by King Features, appears in The Freeman, has been given three awards for his constant fight against Communism.

At a dinner in his honor at New York's Plaza Hotel, the American Jewish League Against Communism presented him with an engraved silver tray for his work "in alerting Americans to the danger of Communism." At the same time he also was given Americanism awards by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and a Detroit post of the American Legion.

In accepting the awards and acknowledging the dinner in his honor, Sokolsky said he felt the affair was not really in his honor "but a dinner to honor the ideal of the Jewish life, which is anti-Marxist."

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., the featured speaker, said:

"George Sokolsky has been a prophet daily warning his countrymen that they were in the midst of a mortal struggle against world communism, a struggle which they were losing against an enemy they seemed not to understand.

Yet at last we now see the signs of the beginning of a great national reawakening for there is growing across the land an anti-Communist movement."

Transfers Property

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of Health, Education and Welfare says it transferred $3,620,355 worth of real and personal surplus property to New York State during the final quarter of 1961.

The property is intended for educational, public health and civil defense purposes. It includes such items as school and hospital sites, buildings for college dormitories, motor vehicles, hospital, school and office furniture, tools, laboratory equipment and school and office supplies.

Dr. Reamer Kline, president of Bard College, will be the principal speaker of the evening, and the public is invited to attend.

Motel Held Up

SUFFERN, N.Y. (AP) — Three young men held up the Motel on the Mountain off Route 17 late Sunday night and escaped with $426.

Police said the armed trio was believed to be the same as that which robbed a motel in Ardsley Sunday.

JAYCEE CONTEST WINNERS—Among winners in the Saugerties Junior Chamber of Commerce ice skating contest Sunday afternoon are Ted Faulkner, first in sprint for 13 to 15 age group and second in long distance; Alan Kane, second in sprint and first in long distance; Nancy Newman, first in sprint and long distance for 13 to 15 age group; Rose Ann Seither, second in long distance. Approximately 150 youngsters participated in the events held at the Youth Council skating rink, Main Street. (Freeman photo)

No One Reported Hurt
In Lake Katrine Crash

No one was reported injured in a two-car crash Sunday afternoon on Route 9W near Neighborhood Road, Lake Katrine, Kingston state police reported.

Troopers identified the cars as a 1959 sedan operated by Kurt Wolf, 47, of Fairview Avenue, Kingston. Passengers in the Wolf vehicle were Miriam Wolf, 45; Ruth Wolf, 16 and Hava Wolf, 11, all of Fairview Avenue.

The other car, a 1959 station wagon was operated by John St. Denis, 19, of Lake Katrine, troopers said.

Trooper J. Renschein said the Wolf car was proceeding on Route 9W, stopped in the driving lane when he hit a bump, and was struck in the rear by the St. Denis station wagon. The mishap occurred at 4 p. m.

Wins Farmer Award

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — William T. Underwood, 32, who operates a 661-acre farm near Little York in Cortland County, has won the outstanding young farmer award of the state Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Underwood, a graduate of Alfred Technical Institute and the State College of Agriculture at Cornell University, was presented the award Saturday at a dinner concluding the two-day meeting of the state group.

Missed One Firm

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Burglars, who took an estimated $400 in goods, skipped only one firm in a row of seven Chattanooga businesses.

They firm they bypassed had a sign fastened to the safe. "Attention burglars: no money inside. Attached is 25 cents for a bottle of beer."

Vehicle Mishaps,
Fires are Fatal
To 11 in State

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Two automobile accidents, each claiming two lives, pushed to seven the traffic death toll in New York State over the weekend.

In addition, four persons were killed in fires and two died in other types of accidents during the period from 6 p. m. Friday to Sunday midnight.

One crash, near Corning, killed George W. Barker, 64, of Addison, and Mrs. Clara Leonard, 59, of Corning. Police said two cars collided on Route 17, five miles southwest of Corning, Saturday.

The other, near Castile, Wyoming County, killed Robert Bentley, 23, and Robert McLane, 24, both of Dalton. The automobile in which they were riding struck a tree Sunday.

Other fatal accidents, by community:

Cold Brook—Albert Davis, 37, of Russia, 12 miles north of Utica, fire destroyed a two-story frame shack Saturday.

Syracuse—Terrance J. Kinane, 18, of Fayetteville, struck by a car Saturday while walking along Route 5 in Fayetteville.

New York—Guy Witz, 30, of Queens, a free-lance artist, body found on top of an elevator in a 5-story loft building Saturday. He apparently was asphyxiated in a fire early Saturday.

Syracuse—Robert D. Crosett, 18, of Warners, car overturned Saturday.

Mendon—Steven Farmer, 6, of Honeoye Falls, auto in which he was a passenger skidded into a tree Saturday.

Warsaw—Miss Bessie Crossman, 73, of Warsaw, fell down stairs in her home Saturday.

Poughkeepsie—Miss Margaret A. Hogan, 80, of Poughkeepsie, clothing caught fire from a stove Sunday.

New York—Bernard Wempe, 14, of Queens, fell from a fire escape while attempting to get into his home Sunday.

Troy—Mrs. Artemise Robinson, 47, of Troy, fire in a three-story apartment building Sunday.

Dies at Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — John E. Stanton, chief of the narcotics bureau of the Buffalo Police Department, died in a hospital Sunday night after a brief illness. He was 62.

Stanton was a veteran of 39 years on the police force, 25 of them as a specialist in narcotics traffic.

Thailand Agrees
With U. S. on Peace in Laos

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Thailand and the United States are "in accord" on efforts to settle the Laos crisis peacefully, U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today.

Kennedy, here on a whirlwind 2½ hour visit during his world tour, spent more than an hour in private conversation with Thai Prime Minister Marshal Sarit Thanarat, with Laos as one of their major topics.

In brief comments to newsmen after the meeting in Sarit's office, Kennedy said, "We are hoping—Thailand and the United States—that the matter can be resolved in Laos in a satisfactory manner."

We are both in accord on efforts being made" (to reach a settlement).

He declined, however, to be pinned down on whether his reference to efforts meant a U.S.-supported move to form a coalition government for Laos under neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma.

Thailand is opposed to such a government, fearful that the pro-Communist Pathet Lao led by Souvanna's half brother, Prince Souphanouvong, would eventually gain control of the neighboring Southeast Asia kingdom bringing a threat to Thai security.

U.S. aid to Thailand—which has totaled $220 million plus $300 million more in military assistance over the past 10 years—was reviewed by Kennedy in his talks with government officials.

Rice and Orange Flavor Chicken

LUXURIOUS, yet economical, chicken breasts with rice and orange slices are an all-season dish, simple to prepare.

GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Chicken Breasts with Orange is a perfect party dish. The chicken is cooked in orange juice and given further character by the addition of mustard, cinnamon and ginger.

The chicken simmers for 45 minutes, is removed to a bed of rice on a platter, and the platter is garnished with thin orange slices. Chicken combines equally well with lemon, too.

Because chicken-in-parts is available at just about any supermarket, you will have no trouble finding prepared chicken breasts.

Chicken Breast With Orange (6 servings)

3 large whole broiler-fryer

chicken breasts
1/2 teaspoon salt, divided
1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon each dry mustard and 2 tablespoons sugar
1 1/2 cups orange juice
3 cups hot cooked rice

Halve breasts. Sprinkle with 1/4 teaspoon of salt. Brown in butter in skillet. Remove breasts from skillet. Add flour, spices, sugar and remaining 1/4 teaspoon salt to drippings in skillet; stir to a smooth paste. Gradually add orange juice. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil.

Add chicken breasts. Cover; simmer over low heat until chicken is tender, about 45 minutes. Remove chicken to serv-

Nurse Is Held In Baby Death

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Miss Kay Lorrain Brong, 21, a nurse, has been charged with first-degree murder in the abandonment New Year's eve of her newborn baby girl.

She was held for a hearing in Police Court.

The infant's body, wrapped in a towel and in a cardboard box, was found, partly frozen, on the steps of University Methodist Church.

Miss Brong, a nurse at the Veterans Administration Hospital, was arrested Saturday after being traced through marks on the box and the towel. She was charged Sunday.

Police said David Crahan, 26, of Oswego, identified as circulation manager of the Oswego Palladium-Times, admitted being the father of the child. Crahan was arrested as a material witness in Oswego by state police, brought to Syracuse and later released in $1,000 bail.

An autopsy report listed lung collapse due to mucus in breathing tubes was the probable cause of the baby's death.

Police said Miss Brong was a recent graduate of Strong Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Rochester.

New Bill Would Require Safety Belts in Autos

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A legislative committee has launched the second phase of its drive to require seat belts in all new automobiles sold in New York State. The Joint Legislative Committee on Motor Vehicles and Traffic Safety introduced in the Legislature Sunday a bill that would require seat belts in the front seats of all cars sold in the state beginning June 30, 1964.

Legislative observers said, however, the bill stood virtually no chance of passage during this session.

An earlier committee bill, requiring seat - belt attachment points in new cars, was complied with by Detroit manufacturers. The belts must be installed at the motorists' expense, however.

Edward J. Speno, chairman of the committee, said Sunday he "has reason to believe Detroit will come along peacefully this time without too much fuss."

'Zorro' Long Way From Disney Now

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Life has been different since Guy Williams turned in his fencing foil and his Zorro suit at Disney's.

Guy recently returned from Rome where he made an Italo-American film, "Damon and Pythias."

"We made two versions of some sequences, one for America, one for Europe," the actor reported. "I did one love scene that was quite explicit. In the European version, we were uh—prone. In the American version, we were not quite so prone."

"Actually, I think the European version was less suggestive," he went on. "There could be no doubt about what was going on. But in the American version, things were hinted at that might not have taken place. The imagination has more chance to run rampant."

Williams is leaving for Munich to begin another feature, "Sinbad," for the King brothers.

"One scene has a girl being changed into a bird," he said. "Naturally her clothes have to be removed first before she can grow feathers. This will be done in silhouette, but it will be fairly graphic."

The actor may follow with "The Three Musketeers" in Rome.

"All this is about 500,000 miles removed from Disney," Williams said with a grin.

But he'll once again be associated with the Disney trademark when he appears next month in a three-part version of "The Prince and the Pauper" on Walt's NBC TV show. Williams will play the old Errol Flynn role, with plenty of dueling.

Some actors might brood over such typing, but not Guy. "I can't complain about Zorro," he said. "He was very good for me; it was the best break I ever had. I got a little weary of the routine of making a TV series; for two years I could do little else but the same 12-hour daily chore."

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Edwin L. Wetterhahn of 50 Wilson Avenue showed me a number of cards from the 1860's. One is a little card of the Lincoln Literary Society 1868-1869. It gave a list of entertainments and lectures, 10 for $3. They were held at the Rondout YMCA which was at the Kennedy Building in Rondout, now owned by Present's department store facing Mill Street. One of the speakers on that list was Samuel J. Clemens or better known as Mark Twain. The signature on the small business card is that of Henry Crane, who was cashier of the old Rondout National Bank, and father of the late Mayor Walter P. Crane.

Just a word about a humorist known to the world as Mark Twain and otherwise as Samuel Langhorne Clemens, 1835-1910. He had been a pilot on a Mississippi river steamer and later wrote about it under the "Life on the Mississippi." His writings are taken from American life, and his Innocents Abroad in 1880 about his trip out of the country. I have this book and have started it several times with the hope of reading it to the finish someday. Those who are traveling especially to other countries would enjoy it. I just wonder if, when he came to Kingston he in anyway at any time included someone or something from around here in his famous books.

Received a very long letter from the Finleys of 61 Holt Street of Dumont, N. J. which I wish I could quote from, but at the end of the one letter, he ends with "not for publication." Then he lists a number of things he remembers.

He feels he can remember back to when he was six years old in 1888 and lived on Pierpont Street and watched men shovel out after the blizzard. Then the John T. Finley's moved to 247 Chestnut Street. He remembers the floods, when Cornell boats went out in the flooded waters, some sank and others were damaged in the Hudson, just below the old lighthouse.

He writes about the fires he remembers up to 1907, the Norwich, the John M. Cordts and Washburn. He remembers the tenement house next to Stock and Cordts building, the hardware store near the bank in the center of the Strand block. He remembers the dry goods store, next to McMillens and Hales, all big fires, he writes. There was a big livery stable fire in back of Broadway, which he thinks at the time was owned by Metzger and later Anderson's. He also recalls the West Shore railroad freight depot cars and coal pocket fire on Cornell Street.

Mr. Finley goes on to mention the Staples Cracker Factory fire on Hasbrouck Avenue the Marblestone Store, the school back of Wall Street on Saturday night, a total loss. He also recalls the Malt House in South Rondout. The explosion of the boiler in Weston's Laundry which he saw, and remembers when the Powder Mills, across the creek exploded. In going along Abel Street he remembers when the D and H had coal barge repairs there which is a playground now. Island Dock instead of having coal piles has a boat yard now.

He mentions when he and others, Frank Johnston and other boys saw a young man drown while trying to save a young boy who went in on thin ice. He said there was no more skating that day. He mentions Matilda Metcalf, Tillie Johnston, little girls, next door on Chestnut Street. This was a do-you-remember between former Kingstonians, a sort of get-together from Schenectady to Dumont, N. J.

Going to a Fire

FAIRBURY, Ill. (AP)—Fire Chief Oscar Hannie was driving to a fire when his car collided with one driven by Chris Gerber. His wife who witnessed the collision from the porch of their home, started back into the house to get a coat. She slipped and suffered a double fracture of the right arm in the fall. A relative took Mrs. Hannie to the hospital while Hannie got a ride to the fire in another car.

Family Code

MEMPHIS (AP)—"I have a telegram for you that doesn't make sense," the baffled Western Union operator told Mrs. E. W. C. Mayer.

The wire read: "Are sending Thai's son. Will eat anything. Please don't kill us."

It was clear as crystal to Mrs. Mayer.

Her sister, Mrs. Reggie Murphy of Fresno, Calif., had a Siamese cat named Thai—and a surplus of kittens.

Single Misconception

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—An 83-year-old motorist was traveling in the left lane of a one-way street when he decided to turn right. A 71-year-old driver was in the right lane and turned left. Patrolman Robert Scott, who investigated the head-on crash, said both men were convinced a driver could turn any way he desired on a one-way thoroughfare.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Weather rather than tired blood may have put the chill on the economy reported in the first seven weeks of 1962.

Less Than Inspiring

With the first half of the first quarter of the year behind us, the performance so far of some key sectors of industry admittedly hasn't been as inspiring as many had hoped. January figures on industrial production, retail sales, personal income, housing starts, shipments by durable goods makers, employment and work weeks slipped below the December levels.

But most of the experts are warning against jumping to conclusions from the slight dips in the statistics.

They could give way to a renewal of the upward push that made 1962 prospects look so bright—while we were still back in 1961. And the majority of the guesses is that they will.

Blaming the weather for a less glowing result than expected is an old American custom. But this time the weather has been so bad, and in many important places—the industrial sectors of the Northeast, Midwest and Pacific Coast—that it's hard even for the pessimists to read any conclusive proof of an economic setback into the official statistics.

Output Not too Bad

The industrial production index of the Federal Reserve Board slipped one point in January from the record level of December. But this put it back where it was in November, and that had been a record then. In other words, even with the weather keeping some employees at home and preventing supplies from reaching some facories or goods from being shipped out, industrial production wasn't bad at all.

In fact, iron and steel output increased and the fuel and power business was strong. More important for the future perhaps, the Commerce Department reports new orders received by manufacturers of durable goods increased in January.

Weather may have taken a more than usual winter toll of outside jobs, and strikes in some auto and truck plants didn't help. But the total drop in employment was slight under the circumstances.

Retail Sales Dip

Retail sales dropped below their high point of November and December. But merchants are paying more attention just now to the prospects of a spring pickup—and to the possible effects on trade of a late Easter, April 22 this year. This presumably would hold down buying in March and increase it above average in April.

Economists are paying closest attention to two of January's statistics, personal income and the length of the work week, and to indications yet to be published of how much business will spend on new plant and equipment.

Both the work week and total personal income dipped in January—how much because of the weather, how much due to labor trouble, economists would like to know before predicting industrial trends.

And also they'd like to know just how real is that feeling of good will reported from Pittsburgh as labor and management hammer out a new steel contract.

Women stained their nails with henna in the days of Sallome and Cleopatra, a vogue which still persists among primitive peoples.

Two Kingston Artists Have Paintings at New Paltz Gallery

Two Kingston artists, Adrian Guillery and Edward Samuels, offer a joint exhibition of drawings, prints, collages and paintings at the New Paltz Gallery this month.

These two have coined the word "Actualism" to describe their work. They avoid either sentimentality or denigration; their point of view is affirmative. With a foundation of skillful, controlled rendering and the gift of acute observation, Samuels and Guillery go beyond "realism" to record an intensely personal story of human relationships. Their prime concern is the human figure, and even the still-life and interior subjects imply the human touch: the dixie cup has just been emptied; someone has just passed through the open door.

While the two artists have a common goal, they are by no means a carbon copy of one another. Guillery is dramatic; Samuels probes, sensitively. Each is absorbed in every facet of human experience.

Both artists trained at the State University College of Education at New Paltz. Both have exhibited at the college and at the Gallery Arkep in New York. Samuels has shown in the Westchester and Putnam County Competitions and at the West Shore Gallery in Providence, R. I. Guillery has exhibited in various Long Island competitions, at the Beekman Gallery in Rhinebeck, N. Y., and at the Art Directions Gallery and the Madison Gallery in New York. The New Paltz Gallery is located in Ohioville just off Throughway Exit 18, toward Poughkeepsie. Hours are 10:30 to 6:00 daily and until 9 p. m. Thursday and Friday evenings. This show will be on display until February 15.

NO EXTRA SLEEPING QUARTERS

Q: My son is a senior at college. Last summer while working in a resort hotel he met a girl who lives in another city. They became good friends. During Christmas vacation he went to visit her for several days. He would now like me to invite her here for a weekend. However, our house is small and we have no extra sleeping quarters. I would like to know if it would be proper to make arrangements for her to stay at a friend's house, or would it be better for my son to move out and have her stay here. She would, of course, have her meals with us.

A: It would be more polite and much nicer for the girl if your son moves out, so that she can stay in your house.

Q: I am a widow soon to be married for the second time. I would like to know if it would be proper to send out engraved invitations to the marriage. I have been told that engraved invitations are in bad taste for a second wedding. What is proper?

A: Usually a second wedding is small and the bride-to-be does not invite her friends verbally or by personal note. But sometimes when the bride-to-be is still young and she is marrying a man who has never been married before, many invitations are sent out and in this case they are engraved.

Q: I have been married six months and during this time my husband's family have come to visit us just once. When asked why they didn't come more often, his mother said because they weren't invited. I was quite taken back at this statement as I always thought members of the family did not wait to be invited. Have I been wrong about this?

A: While they should be invited occasionally to specific party or dinner, it is not supposed to be necessary to be invited to go to see nearest members of one's family.

The clothes of the bride and groom as well as those of their attendants are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Clothes of the Bride Party." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin, to cover cost of handling, and a self-addressed, envelope, to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Freeman.

Hadassah Will Show Tonight on Medical Center in Israel

"Fifty Miracle Minutes," a film account of the move to Hadassah's new medical center in Israel, will be shown tonight when the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah meets at 8:30 at Temple Emanuel.

Mrs. Arthur H. London will preside over the session.

In "Operation Moving-Day" last June, convoys of Israeli army ambulances, Hadassah vehicles, buses and moving vans traveled from five temporary installations to the new medical center at Kiryat Hadassah, outside Jerusalem. Carrying a patient from his bed in one of the five hospitals to his new accommodations took 50 minutes. Also transported was the center's equipment, including X-ray units, files, laboratories and cobalt bomb. All are invited to attend this special showing. Refreshments will be served following the meeting, with Mrs. Morris Berman and Mrs. Maurice Crystal in charge. Mrs. Arthur Landman is program chairman.

Hadassah's study group will meet at 8:30 p. m. Thursday, Feb. 22, in the home of Mrs. David Kline, 10 Len Ct. Mrs. Arthur Kaufman will present a report on Rashi, the great Talmudic commentator. Mrs. Herbert Lange will give a current-events review. Those planning to attend should contact the hostess.

DO YOU TAKE VITAMINS AND STILL FEEL TIRED?

If you take vitamins, get enough rest, yet still feel tired—you may need more than ordinary vitamins to restore your normal strength and energy. Your worn-out feeling may be due to iron-poor, Tired Blood.

Vitamins alone can't build up iron-poor blood. But GERITOL can! Because GERITOL contains 7 important vitamins and, in addition, supplies the therapeutic amount of iron needed to build iron-rich red blood. Just 2 GERITOL tablets, or 2 tablespoons of GERITOL liquid, contain twice the iron in a pound of calves' liver! It is this rich source of iron, combined with high-potency vitamins, including essential B vitamins in 3 to 5 times the minimum daily requirements, that make GERITOL such an effective strength-building tonic. In only one day, GERITOL-iron is working in your bloodstream, carrying strength and energy to every part of your body!

ing in your bloodstream, carrying strength and energy to every part of your body!

PROVED BY MEDICAL TESTS!
Patients diagnosed with iron-deficiency anemia frequently were pale, nervous, irritable and easily tired. After patients took GERITOL daily, doctors reported definite clinical improvement—further confirmed by laboratory tests. Remember, ordinary maintenance vitamins can't do it! But the high-potency combination of vitamins plus iron in GERITOL can help you regain your strength and energy.

So when you feel tired, check with your doctor and if this is your problem, take fast-acting GERITOL every day. You must feel a noticeable difference in the first seven days...or your money back from the maker.

The Mature Parent

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Rudeness Can Be a Veil Covering Other Defects

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

We recently entertained a British writer whose novels are wildly adored by a sensitive and intense young woman I know. After some hesitation, I invited her to meet him. She accepted, but she did not meet him. The day before our modest little party, she telephoned me and without preamble demanded hotly:

"Why haven't you sent me a formal invitation? You thought I wasn't important enough to bother yourself with sending me one, didn't you? Well, I'm not coming to your party. And I think you are the most patronizing and hypocritical person I ever knew!"

Then she broke the connection. She was horribly rude, wasn't she? But I wasn't insulted.

I am aware that my young friend's self-confidence has been so cruelly mangled that she is afraid of a party's social strains. She was driven to create a situation between us that would justify her withdrawal from ours.

I knew that her rudeness was saying to me, "I cannot come to the party because I fear saying or doing the wrong thing." She is receiving psychiatric treatment for this inability to know and communicate her always acceptable reasons for the unacceptable actions she takes.

Some months ago I heard a father speak these words to his child: "I don't know how to punish you until you tell me why you did it."

The line was contained in a play called "The Climate of Eden" by the late Moss Hart, more widely known as the author of hits like "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and for his superb production of "My Fair Lady."

So struck was I by this line that I asked the playwright to see me and expand upon the line's meaning for this column. But then overloaded with work on another stage production, he asked to postpone our interview. In every got it. Soon afterward he suffered the first of the heart attacks which recently killed him.

So, with the story of my young friend who was never taught to put her acceptable reasons for doing things into words for other people, I have tried to interpret the meaning of his great line myself.

It is great because its parent asks for true responsibility from his child. It is great because its parent possesses the ability to suspend judgment. It is greatest because its parent is so at one with his own guiltlessness that he can credit the child with an innocence that doesn't deserve punishment.

However, let's not despair that we cannot always manage such wisdom. The parent who spoke that line lived, you'll remember, in the climate of Eden.

It is my hope that I have not misread Moss Hart.

A Plea to Keep Windows To Frame Child's Dreams

RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The newest design for tomorrow's big red schoolhouse is a building without windows. This is supposed to have quite a few advantages—easy to heat and air condition, no windows to be kept clean, and no temptation for Sis and Johnny to stare out the window instead of looking at the blackboard.

Well, for Sis and Johnny's sake let's hope the design doesn't catch on. No child ought to be shut out day after day in a windowless building.

How are the seasons going to speak to him if he can't smell spring or catch a glimpse of white clouds floating in a blue sky or watch a bird build a nest?

And what about autumn when leaves drift slowly from the trees—or winter when the winds blow and icicles make pretty patterns?

Is a child to go all day without being able to look out a window and see and feel the season? What about the dreams kids dream when they are gazing out the window with a far-away look in their eyes. Aren't these important moments, too?

Of course, they are. Any adult who can recall his own school days with vivid images is sure to remember something of how he felt and what he saw and what he dreamed of when his mind wandered from the blackboard.

Engineers Show Contributions to Man in Displays

Area engineering firms are represented in displays at business establishments during this, "National Engineers' Week" as a means of focusing public attention "on the significance of contributions to mankind by today's engineers," during observance of "National Engineers' Week."

"Economic Growth Through Professional Engineering," is this year's theme selected by the National Society of Professional Engineering.

Setting aside a special week, the engineers say "provides an opportunity to recognize engineers for their contributions in enriching the lives of everyone and to encourage them toward solving the far reaching challenges of the future. Conquering space, finding new and unlimited supplies of energy and gaining insight into the forces governing the universe are but a few of the major objectives which lie ahead for the engineer."

An engineering display will be featured during the week at the Kingston office, Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. of products manufactured by Roton Manufacturing Co. Inc., Woodstock, for use in engineering fields.

A photo display by IBM depicting materials used in computing machines to solve engineering problems will be featured in the lobby of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association, Fair Street.

Central Hudson's Sauterles office will show products manufactured by the Ferroxcube Corp. of America. Posters and banners noting observance of the week will be displayed throughout Kingston.

Contract Approved

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Production and maintenance workers at Incoquo Gas Corp., have approved a new two-year contract that cut short a strike last week. The vote Sunday was by almost 900 members of Local 12013, United Mine Workers, who struck at midnight Wednesday. A tentative agreement was reached 1½ hours after the strike began.

The contract provides for increases of 5 to 11 cents an hour this year and from 4 to 10 cents an hour in 1963, plus expanded fringe benefits. The utility serves 350,000 customers in Western New York.

Slate Discussion On Fluoridation At P-TA Meeting

Fluoridation, a subject which has aroused considerable controversy in Kingston, is to be the topic at the monthly meeting of the P-TA of School No. 5, Wednesday 8 p. m. at the school, 21 Wynkoop Place.

Dr. W. H. Meyer, president of the Ulster-Greene County Dental Society will present the film, "Science Fights Tooth Decay," which deals with fluoridation.

Following the film, Dr. E. Franklin Hall, Ulster County Commissioner of Health; Dr. Jeremiah Sachs, chairman of the Dental Health Education Committee, and Dr. Meyer will lead a panel discussion. Parents and friends are cordially invited to attend this informative meeting.

Bury Upstate Family

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Six members of the Madison family, killed in what police described as a murder-suicide, will be buried in Syracuse Tuesday.

Police said Capt. Vincent J. Madison, 33, an Army physician, killed his wife, Mrs. Sally Carther Madison, and their four sons in a St. Valentine's Day massacre at Columbia, S.C.

The sons were Vincent, 8; Mark, 6; Brian, 5, and Hugh, 2. Madison shot himself later in a Washington, D.C., hotel room, police said.

The funeral will be held at St. Vincent de Paul Church in Syracuse, where Madison and his wife formerly lived.

Friend (asked a man whose aunt had just died)—Why are you so sad? You never appeared to care much for the poor old lady.

Man—I didn't but I was the means of keeping her in a lunatic asylum during the last five years of her life. She has left me all her money, and now I've got to prove that she was of sound mind!

A couple was sitting on the davenport discussing intellectual things like mind reading.

Girl—If I were thinking about the same thing you are, would you call that telepathy?

Boy—No, I'd call that just plain luck.

Who said: "Fire When Ready Gridley?"

Captain Charles Gridley was the naval officer in command of the Olympia. Admiral George Dewey's flagship at the battle of Manila in the Spanish-American War. On May 1, 1898, when the American fleet drew near the Spanish vessels, Admiral Dewey, according to the records of the Navy Department, gave the captain the order: "You may fire when you are ready, Gridley."

Dewey relates the incident in his autobiography, published in 1914: "At 5:40, when we were within a distance of 5,000 yards (two and one-half miles), I turned to Captain Gridley and said: 'You may fire when you are ready, Gridley.' This order virtually put the responsibility for beginning action upon Captain Gridley who then proceeded to direct the firing in the engagement from his own command tower. The Americans destroyed the Spanish fleet without the loss of one man and with only eight wounded. Captain Gridley was in poor health at the time and died two months later at Koba Japan.

BIRDSEYE VIEW OF U. S. AGRICULTURE

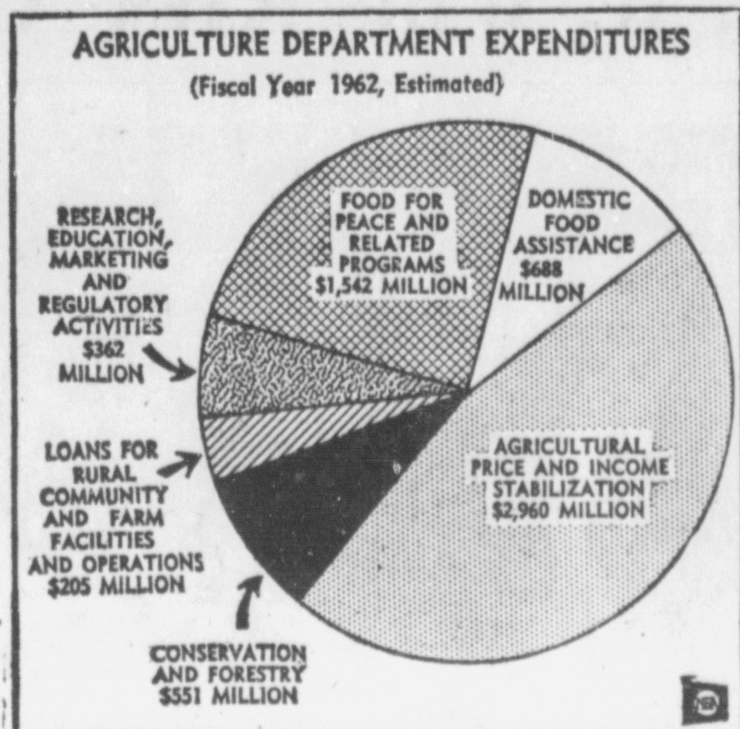

All of us, not just farmers, are vitally concerned with the nation's agricultural health. Selected charts below profile important aspects of the situation, such as land use, expenditures, productivity and stockpiles.

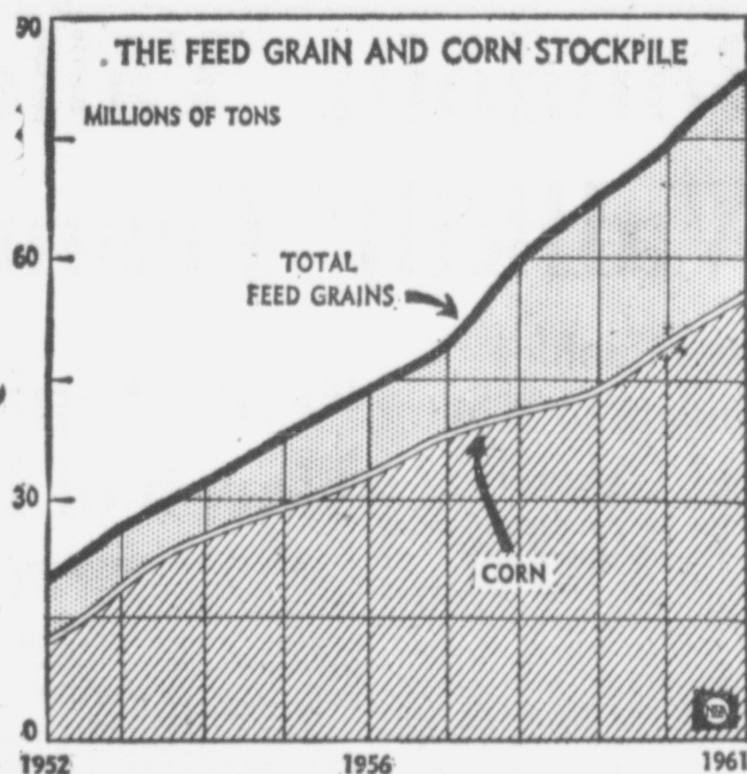

THE FERTILE LAND—Most important uses of America's more than 2½ billion acres of land are shown in chart above. Of the total, 458 million acres are available for crops, but in 1961, only two-thirds of this cropland was harvested. Yet because of increased productivity and advances in technology, production was ample for all needs, both domestic and export. Data from U.S. Department of Agriculture.

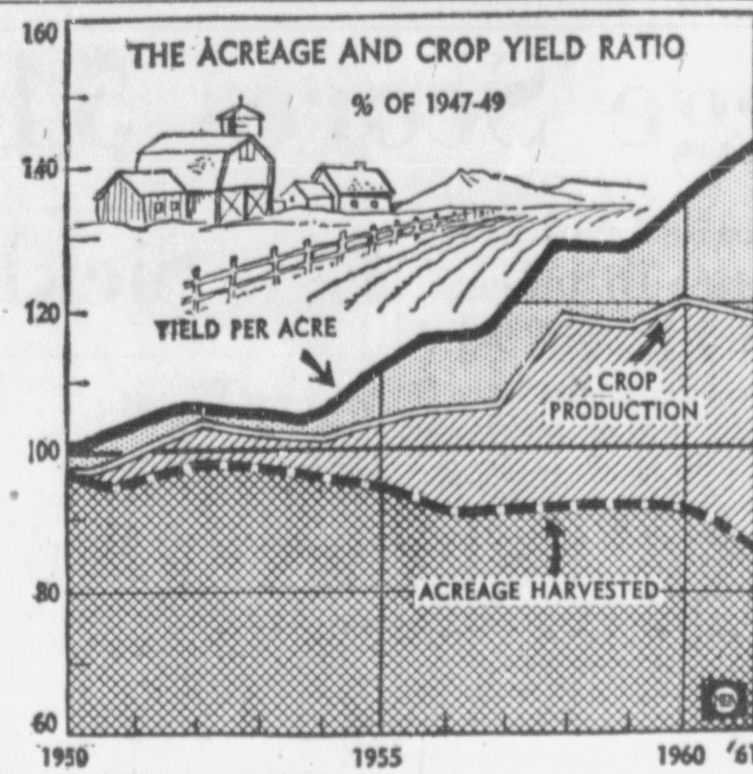

THE FAT YEARS—Unlike Egypt of the Biblical Joseph, future lean years do not promise to dent the nation's stockpile of wheat. Chart, based on U.S. Department of Agriculture data, shows that, except for two years, wheat carryover (excess of production over needs) has risen—from 256 million bushels in 1952 to 1.4 billion bushels in 1961. Storing the wheat has become a big item in the national budget.

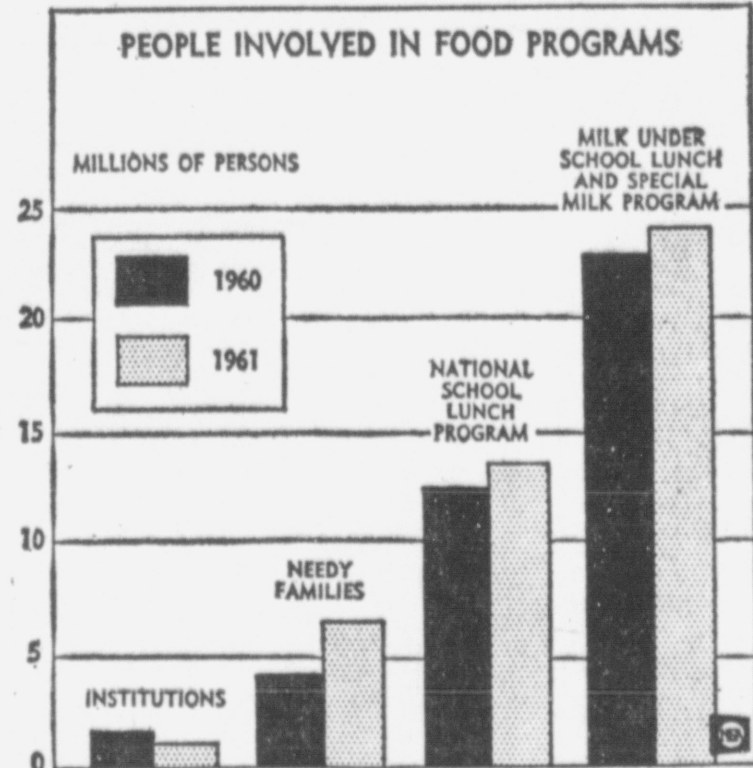

AGRICULTURE AUDIT—Ranking below only national defense and interest on the debt in the U.S. government budget is the more than 6.3 billion dollars to be spent by the Department of Agriculture in fiscal 1962. Nearly half the amount is accounted for by price and income stabilization for farmers. However, the department carries out many other vital activities, which are shown in chart above.

TOO MUCH TOO OFTEN—Perennial problem facing the country's economic planners is the growing carryover of certain farm products—the excess of production over yearly needs. Chart above shows the corn and feed grain carryover picture. Stockpiles have risen for nine straight years, from 20 million tons in 1952 to nearly 85 million tons in 1961. Data is from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

PARADOX OF PLENTY—Despite the decline in crop acreage since 1950, increases in yields per acre on American farms have driven production sharply upward. Chart, based on U.S. Agriculture Dept. information, shows that yields in 1961 were 40 per cent above 1950 levels, due to greater use of fertilizer, better plant varieties, more and better chemicals and machinery and more skillful farming methods.

FOOD FOR ALL—Efforts by the government to distribute America's great abundance of food were stepped up in 1961. Additional needy families were brought under expanded Direct Distribution to make a total of 6.4 million persons. The number of school pupils aided included 13.5 million under the School Lunch Program and 24 million under the special milk and school lunch program provisions jointly.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The daytime serials—sometimes referred to as washboard weepers or soap operas—are, as usual, busily reflecting the day by day life of the average American family.

Ricky, in "Love of Life," has been unjustly accused of murdering his boss. One can only hope his wife will stick by him through the ordeal because when the killing took place, innocent Ricky was dead drunk and with the "other woman," his only alibi.

On "Search for Tomorrow," the reformed alcoholic husband of Rich Allison slipped back into his cups just before he was scheduled to make an important speech and staggered out of the meeting.

Robin, on "Guiding Light," is now married to an older, rich, and terribly jealous man, but Michael, her first husband—youth and good looking—is back on the scene again. Robin still seems faithful to Alex, her current spouse, but it's a dangerous situation.

Young "Doctor Malone's" wife has just had a dreadful time having a baby, and homicidal Claire, who is the wife of somebody else in the story, is in a mental institution.

This reporter, immersed for a few days by a vagrant virus, whiled away some of the weary hours with the serials. They may be a delight to the daily watcher but they are pretty incomprehensible to an occasional one.

Best viewing bets for the acute—as opposed to chronic—daytime viewers are the game and audience participation shows. It takes only a few minutes to get the hang of the game, and if you are sick enough, it might prove mildly entertaining.

"Concentration," "Password" and "The Price is Right" were, I found, just about perfect for invalid viewing.

In the unlikely event anybody believed police work in New York City is a barrel of laughs as exemplified by "Car 54, Where Are You?" two real cops in patrol car 1509 demonstrated Sunday night that it is difficult, sometimes dirty and often dangerous work.

The program was NBC's "Police Emergency," on the work of the emergency squad.

A camera crew followed Mike Chadwick and Gene Corcoran for three months and we saw them pulling a corpse from the river, administering first aid to victims of heart and knife attacks, interviewing holdup victims, carrying an old lady's bundle and talking together about their families and boyhoods.

Any resemblance to the usual TV police-action show was purely coincidental.

Recommended tonight: "To Tell the Truth," CBS, 7:30-8:00 (EST)—consistently amusing panel show with Johnny Carson, Tom Poston, and Dina Merrill separating liars from truth tellers.

It is estimated that magnesium forms about 2.1 per cent of the earth's crust, being the third most abundant of the engineering metals.

South Makes Tough Hand

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The bidding by North and West resulted from the 60 part score. For South's choice of a four heart bid instead of a double of four diamonds, the explanation was that the hour was late and South wanted to get the rubber over and go home.

West collected two diamond tricks and shifted to the queen of clubs.

South now wished that he had settled for a small profit, but he was stuck with his four spade contract and he looked about to see if he could find a distribution that would allow him to make it.

It seemed reasonable to mark West with two major suits: spades, six diamonds and five clubs. In that case everything would be fine if the spade singleton were the ten or the king and South could guess which. How about a low singleton? South saw a way to make the hand in that case and decided to play for it.

He won the club in dummy and led the jack of spades. East put on the king. South took his ace, entered dummy with the ace of hearts, led another spade, finessed the eight, cashed his two high hearts and led his last club. West won and had to lead a club or diamond whereupon South ruffed with dummy's five of spades.

East made his best play. He discarded his last heart, but South underdressed with the three spot and led a heart from dummy. East could ruff high or low, but either way South could overruff and make the last two tricks.

THE SILENT EPIDEMIC

Doctors call it hypokinesia. It simply means soft, flabby, weak muscles caused by lack of activity or exercise.

And hypokinesia is spreading like a silent epidemic among our children. Increasingly large numbers of them now live such inactive lives that they can't perform simple tests requiring a minimum of strength and stamina.

A basic program of physical education—such as the one developed by the President's Council on Youth Fitness—will help put a stop to our children's physical weakness.

Does your child's school have such a program? If not, find out why. It's easy to carry out. It costs your school very little. Act at your next PTA meeting!

Gail Purdy Wins Her Fifth Title

PORT HENRY, N. Y. (AP) — Gail Purdy, a golf champion during the warm months today holds her fifth ice-skating title of the winter season.

Miss Purdy, an 18-year-old college student, swept all women's events Sunday in the New York State Speedskating Champion-ships on Lake Champlain.

She broke her Northeastern New York Association record in winning the three-quarter mile race in two minutes, 30 and 6-tenths seconds. Her old mark, 2:32.6, was set two weeks ago.

Arnold Uhrlas of Yonkers won the men's championship. George Wilson of Saratoga Springs was runner-up.

The Wurster Brothers of Saratoga Springs each took titles at the two-day meet.

Dave Wurster won the intermediate boys division and Johnny captured the junior boys.

Other division winners:

Bill Schnell of Huntington, juvenile boys; Barbara Sulc of Woodhaven, intermediate girl; Karen Leary of North Pelham, junior girls; and Kathy Southern of Saratoga Springs, juvenile girls.

Hawks Lead Foe Entire Distance, Mark Is Now 9-8

Closing their home season on a bright note, the hot shooting New Paltz Hawks zoomed to a 36-26 halftime lead and then put the ball in a deep freeze for nine minutes of the second half as they topped Oneonta State, 54-47, Saturday at the New Paltz Central School gym.

The win was the fifth straight for Coach Doug Sheppard's quintet, which plays at Albany State on Wednesday, at Pace College on Friday and at Oyster Bay on Saturday. The Hawks are 9-8 for the season.

New Paltz led by at least seven points all the way. After starting the second half by freezing the ball, the Hawks held their opponents almost even the rest of the way.

Bob Dillman led a well-balanced attack with 16 points. New Paltz made 15 of 27 free throws against nine of 19 for the losers. Both clubs had 19 baskets.

A Career First

Kildy Corrado's 713 Paces Miron Lumber

Kildy Corrado, after several near misses, finally cracked the charmed 700 circle. The Miron Lumber ace rapped 238-265-210-713 in the Hudson Valley League as his team won a pair from Newburgh Bowling Time Lanes and moved into second place.

Jones Dairy retained its solid grip on the top spot with a sweep of Three Brothers Egg Farms at the Bowlero and Charles Ramsey managed to win one game against Toupouse Lanes in Glenham.

Corrado, the little guy with the big heart, was in superb form. It was his first 700 triple in league play and it led Miron to its pair of victories. Jerry Kaplan aided with 247-182-199-628. Joe Shier led some consistent shooting by the visitors with 205-217-208-630. Fred Visconti had 627. Charles Embler 615 and Jim Lawson 602. However, they ran into Corrado at his best. He simply razzed.

Buster Ferraro led Jones to its sweep with 221-216-199-636. Jack Ferraro rolled 618 on games of 215, 186 and 217. Bob Shel-lighner was the best of the losers with 555.

Charles Ramsey managed to snatch the last game from Toupouse. Nick Catalano opened with 235 and 243 but then slumped to 181 for a 659 series to pace Toupouse. Chick Car-pino had 213-174-178-565 for Charles Ramsey.

Moyer Wants Gene Fullmer; Sugar Ray Done

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—At 22, baby-faced Denny Moyer is hopeful of getting a title fight with NBA middleweight champion Gene Fullmer in April. At 41, Sugar Ray Robinson, once the greatest fighter in the ring, is all washed up, even if he won't admit it.

Promoter Norm Rothschild of Syracuse, N.Y., who helps promote fights involving Fullmer, said there was a possibility of a Moyer-Fullmer title scrap in April.

"It would go great out West," said Rothschild, an associate of Fullmer's manager, Marv Jensen. "There are three places in Montana—Bozeman, Missoula and Billings—and Las Vegas and Denver, which would like the fight."

Moyer, of Portland, Ore., squared accounts with Robinson by belting him freely en route to a one-sided victory in their television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

Robinson won a close, unpopular decision over Moyer last Oct. 21. Former welterweight and middleweight champion, Robinson looked like the boy in against the man. The fast, stocky Oregonian, although bleeding from the nose from the first round on, smashed Robinson repeatedly with right-hand leads to the head and raked over his aging body with short left hooks and jolting rights.

The once slick Sugar was staggered four times—in the third, fifth, ninth and 10th rounds. In the ninth his left leg buckled from a body blow and in the 10th he was a desperate man just hoping to stay up until the final bell.

Lynn Johnson paced the Ganders to their quick start with four baskets in the first period. In fact, the Rondout press was so effective that the high scoring home side had but one basket in the first quarter and three for the entire half.

The home side made things interesting in the third period and started the final eight minutes only seven points behind, 33-26.

Hopes Are Dashed

Wallkill hopes of moving back into contention were dashed quickly in the opening seconds of the fourth period as Richie Lewis made a pair of quick layups and Bob Barnum also scored from underneath. This opened the gap to 12 points, 40-28, and finished the home club.

Referees Vince Leo and Bill Knott were kept busy as they totted a total of 46 personal fouls plus a countless number of jump balls. Starters Ed Mooney and Pete Sowa of Wallkill and Barnum, Jim Brush and Ernie Quick of Rondout fouled out. Lynn Johnson played the second half with four personals and he did a great job.

The Ganders, who suffered a 29-24 double overtime loss to Wallkill earlier in the season and played possession ball most of the night, switched tactics this time and they worked. The press gave the home side plenty of opportunity at the foul line but the field shooting was off. Wallkill had only eight baskets. Johnson rimmed 16 points and Barnum had 10 for the winners but the others saw action contributed to the win. Edelbols tallied 15 for Wallkill, getting 13 of his points from the foul line. Mooney was held to nine points before he fouled out.

Mezer-Honig Win Bridge Tourney

Paul Mezer and Morton Honig of Kingston posted a splendid 64½ game to take first place honors in the regular biweekly fractional point game of the Wiltwyck Duplicate club recently at the Stuyvesant Kingston Hotel.

Second spot went to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest LeFevre of Hurley with a 63½ game. Third was won by Miss Dorothy Maroon and Dr. Habeeb Maroon of Kingston with a 59½ game. Fourth went to Dr. and Mrs. Harry McNamara of Hurley with a 55½ game and fifth was won by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dolan of Kingston with a 54½ game.

The next game is scheduled for Thursday, Mar. 1, at the Kingston Stuyvesant Hotel.

KNOTHOLE LEAGUE DINNER—Among the 85 persons attending the third annual Koenig Athletic club dinner-dance for the benefit of the Metropolitan Knothole league Saturday at the Kingston Moose Lodge were, from the left, Victor C. Amell, founder of the league; president Donald E. Quick, vice president and dinner chairman James F. Howard and secretary-treasurer Albert E. Eisele. Amell was presented with a trophy by the club in recognition of his untiring efforts for the youth of the community.

Press Enables Ganders to Win Big UCAL Tilt

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Forcing the home side into countless errors during the first half with a full court press, Rondout Valley Central threw the UCAL race into a wide open affair by rapping Wallkill, 49-41, Saturday at the losers' court.

The loss knocked Wallkill into a second place tie with Rondout. Marlboro is all alone at the top of the heap but the dukes are at Rondout this Friday. Another upset by the Ganders of Chick Meehan would throw the race into a triple tie.

Chesky-Bennett, Clifton Quick Other Winners

Len Sickler Jr. of Kingston captured the gross all events title with a 2035 aggregate in the Kingston Bowling Association's 25th anniversary tournament at University Lanes, New Paltz, over the weekend.

The breakdown on Sickler's all-events was not available. Runnerup was Robert Burgher with 2023.

Ron Chesky and Preston Bennett, proprietor of University Lanes, won the gross doubles with 1381.

Gross singles went to veteran Clifton Quick of Kingston with 692.

Jack Ferraro of Kingston won the scratch all events with a nine-game total of 1867. Runner-up was Bennett with 1834. Ferraro and Bennett were the only bowlers over the 1800 scratch mark.

Angie Fondino of Kingston rolled 648 to take the net singles by a 17-pin margin over runner-up Jerry Kaplan.

William Lawrence and Harold Broskie, a pair of Kingston veterans shot 1267 for the scratch doubles crown.

Wiltwyck Golfer

Dr. Holcomb Elected President of H.R.G.A.

Dr. Fred Holcomb Jr., of Wiltwyck Country Club, was elected president of the Hudson River Golf Assn. for the 1962 season at the annual meeting last week, held at the Powelton Club in Newburgh.

The new president has served as golf chairman and has also held several other executive posts at Wiltwyck.

Other officers elected were Joe Yaniga, Rockland Country Club, vice president; John Hornbeck, Powelton Country Club, secretary and Gene Morrison, Orange County Country Club, treasurer. Both Hornbeck and Morrison were reelected.

Retiring president Paul Priest of the Orange Country Club presided at the meeting. He was accorded a vote of thanks by those in attendance.

A New Trophy

Ed Clarke of Middletown, re-elected prize chairman, made known the presentation to the association of a sterling silver trophy which will be made a perpetual award to the memory of the late Paul A. H. Weiss of Dutchess Country Club, who died last year. He served the association as treasurer from 1937 through 1939 and as president for nine years, from 1940 through 1948. The trophy in his honor will be awarded annually to the low gross winner in the seniors' championship.

Members voted to alter the handicap limits for the three classes of competition, based on a survey of the participation experience of the past four years. For the 1962 season, Class A will include handicaps to and including eight, Class B from 9 through 13 and Class C from 14 through 36.

The association schedule includes the championship tournament at Powelton on June 15, 16 and 17. Other events include the following:

Saturday-At-Golf—May 19 at Rockland Country Club.

Saturday-At-Golf—June 9 at West Point.

Championship—June 15-17 at Powelton Country Club.

Ladies Tournament—June 19 at Dutchess Country Club.

Team championship, July 21 at Dutchess.

Seniors' championship with Saturday-At-Golf—Aug. 4 at Wiltwyck.

Saturday-At-Golf—Sept. 8 at Orange County.

Combine the Seniors. Because of poor attendance at the recent seniors' events, it was voted to combine the senior championship with a Saturday-At-Golf, and to divide the competition into two classes, those 50-59 and those 60 and over. The new Weiss trophy will be awarded to low gross winner, in whichever class he may fall. Another low gross prize will be given in the other senior group. There will also be a low net prize for each senior class.

This year marks the 60th anniversary of the club. It was organized in 1902 and is the second oldest golf association in the country.

Ray's, Byrne Score Wins in Rec Circuit

Showing unusual strong balance throughout the lineup, Ray's Tackle Shop retained its unbeaten status in the Rec league with a 73-43 win over Byrne Chevrolet last night at the Municipal Auditorium.

In the other contest, Adolph's of Red Hook swept past Hub Delectessen, 68-52, aided by a 26 point outburst from Ronnie Miller.

The Tackle Shop had little trouble disposing of Byrne's. Coach Ward Dunham's five led, 14-6, 34-16, and 55-26, at the quarter steps.

Chick Boice, Roy Klonowski, Bob Bondar, Roy Havens and Leo Armstead were all in double figures for the Tackle Shop. Fred Orr rimmed 18 for the losers.

Red Hook had to rally in the final period to beat a fired-up Hub Delectessen club. The two teams were tied, 44-44, starting that last session. The Hookers outscored their opponents, 24-8, to wrap up the verdict.

Miller had nine ducous and eight charity tosses. Don Moul made 14 points. Al Short led Hub with 17 markers while Nick Nagele added 11.

Rodgers Wins Golf Tourney

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Positive thinking, and phenomenal putting, carried Phil Rodgers to a three-stroke victory in the $20,000 Tucson Open golf tournament.

The brash, 23-year-old pro from La Jolla, Calif., grabbed top prize money of $2,800 Sunday by dropping a 65-foot wedge shot for an eagle 3 on the 18th hole and a final round 66.

His 72-hole total over the 6,484-yard, par-70 El Rio course was a 17-under-par 283.

By the time he reached the 18th, Rodgers needed only par to win. After playing par golf and trailing Buddy Sullivan of Yuba City, Calif., by one stroke, Rodgers began his victory march on the 10th tee.

On the 10th, he asked host pro Ray Akana for a report on scores. "Now that I know what I need," Rodgers replied, "I'll get it."

He dropped a 12-foot putt for a birdie on the next hole and went on to a 4-under-par 31 on the back nine.

Jim Ferrier, at 46 the oldest pro in the tourney and troubled by a stiff neck, finished second with a 266 and $1,900.

Gene Littler remained as the tour's top money winner with the $1,175 he, Charles Sifford, Paul Harvey and Buddy Sullivan each picked up for third place 267's.

Littler now has won $14,186.66. Rodgers moved into second ahead of Arnold Palmer with four earnings of $13,363.57.

St. Mary's Captures Beacon Cage Tourney

St. Mary's of Kingston captured the varsity division title in the annual Beacon Invitational Tournament by beating St. Patrick's of Yorktown, 29-22, yesterday at the Southern Dutchess County CYO center. The locals had earned their appearance in the finals by beating St. Mary's of Newburgh, 44-28, in the semi-finals on Saturday.

Effective shooting by Dan Heppner and Gene Rios gave the champions an early lead. They were ahead, 10-4, at halftime and survived some interesting moments in the third period to pull out the decision.

The winners received individual trophies as well as a team trophy. They will now enter the Archdiocesan tournament and figure to give a good account of themselves.

More Snow Slated Later This Week

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Extended forecasts, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from 7 p.m. today to 7 p.m. Saturday: Eastern New York — Normal winter-level temperatures are expected throughout the week. Turning colder at beginning and again by Thursday night with a brief warming period at mid-week. Interim periods of snow flurries during the week with more general precipitation the middle of the week and possibly at the weekend. Western New York—Temperatures will average 1-3 degrees below normal. Frequent day-to-day temperature changes with some precipitation indicated each day. Precipitation will average 1/4 to 1 inch melted as light snow or snow flurries. Temperature normals—Daytime highs 25-30 north, 30-35 central and south. Nighttime lows 5-10 north, 10-15 central and south.

Navy Men Begin Third Day Test In Small Space

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hundred Navy men whiled away the time as best they could in cramped underground quarters today on the third day of a two-week test to determine what happens to people in a long stay in a nuclear fallout shelter. The test group — two officers and 98 enlisted men including two medical corpsmen—went underground Saturday in a $70,000 shelter of concrete, steel and wood in a hillside on the grounds of the naval medical center in suburban Bethesda, Md. The 25-by-48 foot structure gives each man about a tenth of the space allotted each man on a submarine. There is plenty of food—a rather monotonous survival-only sort — plus games and reading material. But there is no outside communication except a radio receiver, and there are no major jobs to keep minds occupied. Throughout the trial the men will be under observation through a TV monitoring camera. The basic aim is to check physical rather than psychological reactions but each man is directed to maintain a diary, and when they emerge there will be two days of medical examinations and questioning.

Midwest's Snow, Sleet Storm Heads Into Northeast Today

Crippling wind-blown snow and sleet storms which battered the Midwest over the weekend, leaving a blanket of up to two feet of snow and sheets of ice, blustered into the Northeast today. Effects of the damaging weather in the eight-state storm belt from the Dakotas to Michigan were widespread. Some areas were virtually paralyzed.

Report 31 Inches
Thirty-one inches of snow covered Sioux Falls, S.D., as the heaviest snow of the season swept eastern South Dakota and southwestern Minnesota. The storms spread into areas in North Dakota, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois and Michigan. They moved into northern Indiana and Ohio and headed northeastward, with heavy snowfall indicated in the northeastern upper lakes to Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

The violent wintry weather which whipped across the nation's midlands from the Rockies created monumental traffic jams. Thousands of motorists were temporarily stranded as strong winds whipped the snow into high drifts on highways and streets. Traffic was sharply curtailed. Many schools called off classes today. Church services were cancelled in many areas Sunday.

Roads Blocked
Hundreds of secondary roads were blocked. Travel in southern Minnesota was virtually halted.

Mitchell Accepted In Managers Assn.

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—City Manager Joseph Mitchell said today he has been accepted for another year's membership in the International City Managers Association, which which censured last year with regard to its code of ethics.

The code does not condone partisan political activities by city managers. The censure was made in connection with Mitchell's statement last year that he would resign if Newburgh City Council candidates who supported his welfare reforms were defeated in the November election. They won and Mitchell stayed on.

IBM Appointments Listed

HAROLD A. HAGOPIAN
The appointment of two local men to managerial positions at International Business Machines Federal Systems Division were announced this week.

Harold A. Hagopian of Saugerties was named manager of command control liaison office, Bethesda, Md., according to Ralph G. Mork, manager of the engineering laboratory at Kingston.

Seymour Herman of Kingston was appointed as financial services manager of the Command Control Center at Kingston it was announced by Edward C. Byman, command control systems manager.

Hagopian joined IBM in early 1952 as a design engineer in mechanical design at Poughkeepsie. In February, 1953, he was named an associate engineer in early SAGE computer dis-

Issued Summons After Marbletown Mishap

One driver was issued a summons for failure to keep right following a two-car traffic mishap Saturday afternoon on the Pine Bush Road in the Town of Marbletown. No one was reported injured, according to Kingston state police.

Robert Larsen, 18 of Stone Ridge must appear Tuesday before Town of Marbletown Justice of the Peace Harry Scarpati to answer charges of failure to keep right.

Trooper J. Rosenschein reported Merritt Soule, 31, of Stone Ridge, operating a 1959 truck was proceeding north on Pine Bush Road. Larsen in a 1958 convertible was traveling south, bore out into the north-bound lane to make a turn and was in collision with the Soule truck, troopers reported. The mishap occurred at 3:45 p. m.

ant in the office of the controller. He was named manager of contract finance in August, 1949, a post he has held until his present appointment.

He received a Bachelor of Science Degree, magna cum laude, from the New York University School of Commerce and a Bachelor of Laws Degree from New York University. Herman is a certified public accountant and an attorney-at-law. He is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the Federal Bar Association and Beta Gamma Sigma honorary business society.

Herman, his wife Sheila and daughters Robyn, 5, and Jansey, 3, reside at 74 Stahlman Place.

Sherman Named City Chairman of Red Cross Drive

The appointment of Benjamin Sherman of Kingston as chairman of the city wards for the Red Cross 1962 fund campaign has been announced by Wakeman R. Gardner, campaign chairman.

Mr. Sherman will coordinate the drive for funds, starting March 1, in the thirteen wards of the city.

"This year's slogan is 'When You Give, We Can Help!'" said

Mr. Sherman. "The needs of the Red Cross are greater now than they have ever been and the support of every citizen is vital for its continued program of activities in disaster relief, first aid training, water safety, motor and home service."

Mr. Sherman is presently associated with the Shattuck Realty Co. He retired from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company after 31 years of service.

A native of Kingston, he is a member of Cyprus Temple, Ulster County Shrine Club and of Kingston Lodge 10, F&M. He is also a member of Congregation Ahavath Israel, Kingston.

Mr. Sherman resides at 71 Madison Avenue.

True to tradition and the land where Bock Beer was born, Kathy Kersh, Miss Rheingold 1962, comes to town in a Ziegenkarren—an authentic Old World goat cart.

Rheingold Golden Bock is back! (Can Spring be far behind?)

Come fill your glass with Golden Bock, but hurry, the season doesn't tarry long. We brew this special golden brew only during the crisp days of Autumn—no wonder the flavor is so unique, so rich and robust—and just before the first robin, the supply is gone. Incidentally, if you tried to buy Rheingold Golden Bock last year and couldn't, take heart. This time we've produced a lot more—brewed slowly and carefully in the best Rheingold tradition. There's no bock like Golden Bock. It's as different from other bocks as Rheingold Extra Dry is from other beers.

Ask for Rheingold Golden Bock at stores, restaurants and taverns all over town.
